UNCLE SAM'S NEW WAR TRUCK COMPLETED

WONDER MOTOR FOR GOVERNMENT TO BE TESTED THIS WEEK

Standardized Truck for Battle Front Produced by Sixty Factories and Assembled Secretly.

TO BUILD 35,000 COPIES WITHIN YEAR

Lima, Ohio, Oct. 8.—The first liberty motor truck for the United States army, product of the greatest motor truck designers of the country, and the combined emergency of twelve motor truck plants and sixty-two automobile parts factories was completed here today at a local manufacturing plant.

The standardized machine, of which 35,000 copies will be turned out in the first half of 1918 for the army, is said to represent the perfection of automobile truck development. Its motive power is derived from the new liberty motor recently perfected.

Lima is preparing for a great patriotic demonstration when the new army truck is given its first road test, probably late this week. High army officers, including the quartermaster general and possibly Secretary of War Baker, are arranging to attend. Following tests at the factory the truck will start on an endurance trip to the east.

Built in Secrecy.
The first liberty motor truck was built in the greatest secrecy to protect it from enemy eyes. A building without windows and lighted only by skylights housed the truck during the three weeks of its construction. The plant was closely guarded by armed men night and day. As an added precaution a second truck was assembled in an eastern city.

As each part was completed here a duplicate part was despatched to a New York town where mechanics assembled a second machine. If the parts were small they were sent by registered mail. If too big to ship that way trusted mechanics carried them personally by train.

Sixty Odd Factories Work on It.
Similar precautions surrounded parts manufactured in the sixty odd factories which contributed to the making of the machine.

No one company knows the complete design or what other companies made other parts.

The truck was assembled at a local motor truck factory, of which Ralph Austin is chief engineer. Austin is chairman of the standardized motor truck committee of the council of national defense and had a leading part in designing the new truck.

The completed truck is said to be strongest compared to the load it is designed to carry over turned out in this country. Every part has been enormously strengthened to cope with the rough usage of war. It carries more than 1,000 pounds of dead weight, more than commercial trucks of corresponding capacity. The truck will be used only for the army and will not be placed on the market, government officials say.

GERMAN LEADER SEES FAILURE ON LAND AND SEA

Amsterdam, Oct. 8.—George Goethe, progressive member of the reichstag, is quoted in a Berlin dispatch as having said at a meeting of the central committee of his party that although the military situation was satisfactory there was no hope of crushing Germany's enemies on land. As for the submarine campaign, seven million tons of shipping had been sunk, he asserted, but no disposition toward peace on the part of England was discernable. A rationing system for foodstuffs had not been even introduced and no one was able to say when the U-boat would make England more inclined for peace.

London, Oct. 8.—The Germans made an attack last evening on British positions east of Ypres, where the British recently have made important advances. The war office reports the enemy was repulsed.

The statement follows:

"An infantry attack developed against our positions east of Polygon wood after the enemy had put down a heavy barrage yesterday at dusk on our front between Hellebeke and Broodseinde. The attacks were beaten off by our fire, a few prisoners remaining in our hands.

British Front in France and Belgium, Oct. 8.—A counter-attack by the Germans in force east of Polygon wood, in the region of Reutel, last evening was quickly beaten off by artillery and machine gun fire. The front involved was over a width of about 500 yards. The attack was preceded by a heavy artillery barrage which was put down not only in this

New York, Oct. 8.—With the Chicago White Sox and the New York Giants to arrive here late today from Chicago the scene of the world's baseball series now shifts to New York and local fandom, disappointed but not dismayed as the result of the first two games, is hoping for the Giant victory in Tuesday and Wednesday's contests.

It is argued by the fans that on home grounds and with the encouragement of a friendly crowd the Giants, stung by their defeats, will redeem themselves and demonstrate their true form. The betting, however, has switched and wagers of $1 to 1 on the White Sox are asked with but little money in sight.

All is in readiness at the Polo Grounds to handle the great throng that will witness the classic. Everything has been provided except the weather and that promise to be fair. Despite unusually energetic measures to check ticket speculation quantities of the coveted pastebords have reached speculators and they are being offered for sale at an increase of from 300 to 400 per cent above the stipulated price. The vanguard of baseball enthusiasts from various parts of the east arrived last night and hotels are crowded to capacity. Special trains will bring additional quotas tomorrow.

Aboard the White Sox Special Train, Oct. 8.—The Chicago White Sox are speeding east today flushed with two victories over the champions of the National league in the world's series struggle and are eager to tackle the New York Giants tomorrow at the historic Polo Grounds. There is not one member of Conkley's club but who believes that the White Sox will take four straight games from the Giants. The White Sox were surprised at the ease with which they solved the shoots of McGraw's left side finger, Schupp. They had heard so much of his effectiveness in the National league pennant chase that they looked for trouble when he started, but they found no

RELIEVE PINCH OF EMBARGO ON GOLD EXPORTS

Washington, Oct. 8.—To relieve embarrassment caused by the gold embargo to American business concerns having agencies in South and Central America the federal reserve board has opened negotiations with these countries. To transfer funds to South America, American firms are now paying more than 30 per cent above the normal rate of exchange. The federal reserve board has proposed that American firms shall deposit funds with certain banks in this country to the credit of the South or Central American government in which business is to be done. That government in turn is to issue its own notes to the resident agents of the American seeking to transmit the money.

GENERAL STRIKE ON RAILWAYS OF RUSSIA IS BEGUN

Petrograd, Sunday, Oct. 7.—The general railway strike which promised a complete tie up of traffic except military and military trains became effective last night. All passenger trains, scheduled to leave Petrograd today, except for the front, were abandoned. The strike was carried out to effect in spite of the warning given by N. Nikitin, minister of posts and telegraphs, that the strikers would have to answer charges of treason and calling upon the telegraph operators to refuse to transmit the strike order.

BALL MAGNATES ESCAPE INJURY IN PENNSY WRECK

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 8.—Members of the National Base Ball commission were on the Pennsylvania limited on their way from Chicago to New York, when the train collided with a freight train near Beaver Falls, west of here, this morning. Reports to Pennsylvania railroad officials here said that none of the commission had been injured, although four engineers had been buried in the wreckage.

All tracks were blocked by the wreckage of the freight train and while one track was being opened physicians attended the injured which they soon discovered, were confined to the engine crows. Four of these men were badly hurt, and were removed to a hospital at Rochester, Pa. The passengers on the limited, including the members of the commission, were brought to Pittsburg soon after 10 o'clock and continued their journey east.

TO STANDARDIZE BAKING OF BREAD

Government Will Try Important Experiment in Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Oct. 8.—Philadelphia is to be the scene of an experiment by Herbert C. Hoover, national food administrator, in the preparation of a 5-cent loaf of bread. It is also proposed to establish a standardized method of mixing and making the bread. The new war loaf will, it is said, effect a saving of sugar, lard and milk and yet be wholesome.

The department of agriculture in co-operation with Mr. Hoover has sent J. R. Jacobs, of the bureau of chemistry, here to instruct bakers in the preparation of the bread. Mr. Jacobs said in an interview:

"Without the exact weight of the new loaf I cannot tell at present, but I will say that its size will effect a considerable saving over present prices. We shall establish the same methods and depts in every section of the United States. I anticipate no difficulty in securing the co-operation of the bakers as we are satisfied that if they carry out instructions they will be able to put the new bread on the market at a profit that will allow them to continue business as usual."

According to Mr. Jacobs the new bread is the result of a long series of experiments carried on to determine if possible whether there might be some way in which the steadily increasing prices of the staff of life could be lowered.

AGREEMENT WITH BOURGEOISE MADE

Government Will at Once
Form Complete Cabinet
Says Kerensky.

Petrograd, Oct. 8.—After a conference of three hours between members of the government, including Premier Kerensky, with a delegation representing the democratic congress and with representatives of the bourgeoisie yesterday, a complete agreement was reached on all questions.

The premier declared that the government purposed immediately to form a complete cabinet so that the reconstituted coalition government might be able to go to work at once on the basis laid down.

In view of the government's objections the representatives of the democratic congress withdrew their request that one of their delegates participate for the coming inter-allied conference in Paris.

The proposed parliament would include representatives of non-democratic elements who would have the right to interpellate the government, which must reply formally. The government would not be responsible to parliament, but no cabinet could continue in existence without confidence of parliament.

The parliament endorsed the formula covering the question of the responsibility of the government to parliament by 109 to 84, twenty-two members abstaining from voting.

M. Tsereteli announced that satisfactory assurances had been given the democratic members that energetic measures would be taken to convene an inter-allied conference for the revision of treaties, at which democracies would be represented.

EARLY AIR RAIDS OF GERMANY HAD BAD APPEARANCE

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 8.—German air raid methods early in the war were described by Henry Van Dyke, former minister to The Netherlands, in an address to Harvard graduate students last night. He said that Captain William J. S. A., who watched an attack by Zeppelins on Antwerp on August 22, had made a map of their course, which indicated that the airships had attempted to destroy a hospital, two hotels and King Albert's palace. None of these buildings was hit by bombs, but sixty non-combatants were killed in other parts of the city.

THANKSGIVING TURKEYS WILL GO TO SOLDIER

Chicago, Oct. 8.—That United States soldiers and sailors now in service are not to miss their Thanksgiving turkey dinner is evidenced by an announcement today that Chicago poultry commission men tomorrow will be given an opportunity to make bids on 1,000,000 pounds of the army at home and in the Philippines. A consignment of 154,000 pounds of turkey is said to be already on the way to the soldiers in France.

CORN CROP THIS YEAR WILL HOLD THE TOP RECORD

Despite September Loss of Almost Forty Million Bushels, Total
Is Greatest in History.

AGGREGATE IS ABOVE 3,200,000,000

Washington, Oct. 8.—Despite an estimated loss of 37,000,000 bushels during September the country's corn crop still will be the greatest in its history. Latest figures issued by the department of agriculture today show the crop will be 3,210,975,000 bushels, also that despite an estimated loss of 9,000,000 bushels during the month the spring wheat crop will exceed last year's.

Other crops approach bumper records.

Condition of corn by important states follows: Ohio, 82; Indiana, 82; Illinois, 86; Iowa, 80; Missouri, 94; Nebraska, 77; Kansas, 42.

Forecasts of the country's principal farm crops were announced today by the department of agriculture, basing its estimates on the condition of the crops October 1, or at time of harvest. Preliminary estimates of production of spring wheat, fall wheat, oats, hay and barley were made. Comparison of the October 1 forecast with that made from September 1 conditions indicates the offset of weather and other conditions on the crops during September. The forecasts (in millions of bushels) follow:

Reichstag Hammering Upon

Upon Hollweg.

(By the Associated Press.)
External pressure to force the German government to set forth its war aims clearly having failed on the surface, internal conditions within the empire threatens to compel issuance of a full statement of Germany's aims.

What the German leaders want, if they are successful, will be discussed in the reichstag this week, probably today. The imperial chancellor, Dr. Michaelis, is finding the way as difficult as it was for his predecessor, von Bethmann Hollweg, and he must now face the critics of the government in the reichstag.

Whether, as has been charged, the bureaucracy and the army have been furthering the pan-German scheme of annexation and indemnities is expected to be brought out in the reichstag debate.

Dr. Michaelis on Saturday sent Minister of the Interior Helfferich before the reichstag to make a statement on his behalf. Helfferich failed to mollify the critics members of the reichstag and the sitting was adjourned to today.

SENATE COMMITTEE IS PREPARING FOR LA FOLLETTE MESS

Washington, Oct. 8.—Questions of procedure and whether its hearings shall be public were among those awaiting determination by a senate privilege and elections subcommittee, of which Senator Pomerene, of Ohio, is chairman, when it met today, preliminary to beginning an investigation of Senator Robert M. La Follette's alleged disloyal speech before the non-partisan league at St. Paul recently.

Since the scope of the inquiry is limited solely to the accuracy of the speech and accuracy of Senator La Follette's statement of facts therein, the committee hopes to finish its work inside of ten days. Senator La Follette was expected to furnish the committee with a correct copy of his speech today.

Pennsylvania Engineer Enjoys the Fruits of Long Railroad Service.

was on April 17, 1874, when Martin Stafford fired his first run for the Pennsylvania company, and he continued in the company's employ until October 18, 1911, when he retired and since been on the pension list and is comfortably in Denver, Col. He was born and reared in Otsego county, New York, and when he came to Fort Wayne the city had a population of about 20,000 and was considered by few Yorkers as "way out west."

During the first three months of his service he fired on the G. & I. between Fort Wayne and Grand Rapids and between Fort Wayne and Richmond. He was then transferred to the Lima local, and in 1875 removed to Lima, O. There he married and became Elmer, who later also became a Pennsylvania fireman, was born in 1878, by reason of a change in runs, the family removed to Fort Wayne and lived for two years on Charles street, now Masterson avenue. Here the second son, Irvin G., former manager of the Fort Wayne Printing company, but now engaged in the newspaper business in Colorado, was born. In 1887 Mr. Stafford built a comfortable home on East Lewis street when there were but few houses in that section of the city and the coming of sewer, city water, natural gas, electric lights, street cars and a paved street were hardly considered as possibilities of the future. That entire section of the city has long been solidly built and is the favorite district for railroad and shopmen. The old home at 829 East Lewis street, occupied by the Stafford family for twenty-five years, was sold in 1907 to Pennsylvania Engineer Rogers when the Stafford family removed to Denver. Mr. Stafford continued in the service of the company for four years longer, working here during the summer and returning to Denver for the winter.

For thirteen long years he was engineer on No. 66, hauling perishable freight, and one of the best runs on the road. During his thirty-seven years of continuous service he never met with a serious accident and was considered one of the company's most trusted and dependable employees. His motto was: "Keep your hand upon the throttle and your eye upon the rail."

Since removing to Denver he has built a beautiful two-story pressed brick home on a commanding corner in the aristocratic section of Colorado's capital city, and both he and Mrs. Stafford pride themselves on a well-kept sloping lawn, pretty flower beds and thirty elm trees.

On last Wednesday, October 3, Mr. Stafford was 71 years of age and enjoying good health. A year ago he was suffering a severe attack of rheumatism and was attended by Dr. George C. Stemen, also widely known here, and a son of the late Dr. C. B. Stemen, the veteran Pennsylvania surgeon. A year ago, when he reached "three score and ten," the event was celebrated by a birthday dinner attended by the wife and three sons, and the wife and six children of Irvin G. Stafford. This year there was no celebration, the family preferring to wait until the seventy-fifth anniversary is reached.

Since being placed on the pension list, May 1, 1912, Mr. Stafford has received over $2,000 from the company's pension fund, which goes to show that the big corporations of today have more than passing consideration for their old and faithful employees.

Mr. Stafford has been a reader of The Sentinel for forty-three years, and gets much pleasure in reading each issue as it is delivered to him in Denver, particularly the news of railroad doings.

TAKEN ILL ON WAY TO WORK.

George W. Kensil, passenger engineer of the Pennsylvania, was taken suddenly ill while on his way to work Sunday afternoon, and had to return to his home, where he now is and resting easy.

Have you attended the rug and furniture auction yet? If not, be sure to run in this evening. Some very fine articles will be shown tonight. Sale every night at 7:30. Central Furniture Co., 1217 Calhoun street.

MEETING WAS THE BEST OF ALL

Penns Vets Never Had Better Time Than Was Given Them Saturday.

"One of the best we ever held" was the way one of the Pennsylvania veteran employees who attended the association's annual meeting last Saturday, at the high school, expressed his opinion of that event. "Great credit is due Mrs. Deister, the high school caterer, for the excellent menu and the service of the twenty-five campfire girls as waitresses at the tables. There was no tedious waiting by the vets at the tables, an incident of the feast they greatly appreciated," continued the veteran.

C. M. Wood, agent at Warsaw for the company, made an exceptionally good toastmaster and Supt. W. M. Wardrop, of the E. & A. division; Claim Agent H. T. Swegman, of Chicago, and C. E. McKeenan, assistant trainmaster, who were among those who responded to calls for addresses, gave interesting talks, reminiscent in character and added greatly to the enjoyment of the occasion.

There were upwards of 350 at the tables and the large banquet hall with its patriotic decorations presented a handsome appearance. After the banquet, a short session of dancing in compliment to the campfire girls was indulged in. Roemke's orchestra furnishing the music.

The business session was held in the afternoon and the list of officers was published in part by the Sentinel Saturday evening. It was as follows: Past president, John B. Brown; president, T. J. Costello; first vice president, Peter Carter; second vice president, H. U. Diem; secretary, J. H. Hobrock; treasurer, Hiram A. Philleary; chaplain, Charles M. LaRue, a former resident of Fort Wayne, but now a train dispatcher on the Chicago Terminal division. The executive committee is one of the most important parts of the organization, because it selects the date and place of annual meetings and decides all important questions. Therefore great care is taken in selecting the board. The personnel of the executive committee as elected last Saturday is as follows: C. M. Wood, agent at Warsaw; chairman; O. R. Marsh, of the Chicago passenger department; J. S. Blakeley, passenger conductor; J. A. Stewart, passenger engineer; Henry G. Schuster, foreman of the carpenter department of the local shops; C. J. Grunert, passenger conductor of Valparaiso, and T. F. Rodenbaugh, passenger brakeman. A letter from General Manager D. F. Crawford, whom it was hoped would be the chief speaker at the banquet, brought his regrets and the information that business engagements prevented his presence at the banquet.

NICKEL PLATE CHANGES.

Several Employees Are Promoted in the Service.

Some changes due to occur on the Nickel Plate this week involve the promotions of several men. Conductor D. R. Crowley, of Bellevue, has been appointed assistant to Trainmaster E. S. Kirby, of the Fort Wayne division, with headquarters in Bellevue. This new office is the outgrowth of the unprecedented business of the division and the necessity because of the great volume of government business and the necessity to "rush" it. Mr. Kirby remains in charge of the division and Mr. Crowley reports to him. The other changes affect the passenger department. Ed N. Doehrmann, assistant to Agent C. A. Pritchard, has been appointed ticket passenger agent at Chicago, succeeding W. A. Morrison, appointed to another position. He will be under the supervision of C. A. Asterlin, general western passenger agent, who a few years ago was division passenger agent, with headquarters in Fort Wayne, an office now occupied by Frank P. Parnin. R. H. Jones, night ticket agent, succeeds Mr. Doehrmann, while Mr. Jones will be succeeded by A. P. Phipps, clerk in the Chicago division office. These changes will become effective about next Wednesday. Ed Doehrmann began service at the local ticket office in 1910, working at nights for two years, when he was transferred to the day trick.

FIRST NUMBER A DANCE.

Electro-Technic Club Opens Entertainment Season October 16.

The entertainment and the literary committee of the Electro-Technic club are now engaged in formulating a list of events for the 1917-1918 series and are being handicapped slightly by delay in the replies of lecturers whom it is desired to secure. So far the committee has settled upon only one of the events, the opening number, a dance for the members and their families on Tuesday night, October 16. The place of holding the ball has not yet been decided. At this gathering there will also be some five minute speeches by the officers of the club. A membership campaign is now being carried on and at present 350 have been enrolled. Interest is increasing as the date of the opening meeting approaches and one of the men interested in the campaign said that he expected upwards of 1,000 members before the contest is closed.

INCREASING THE MEMBERSHIP.

Bartenders' union, No. 305, took action yesterday on the applications for membership of Wilber Reber, W. A. Grund, Henry Fickelstein, H. Overmyer and H. Witte. They will be obligated at the next meeting of the local on October 21. Edward Love was appointed a member of the joint executive board of the Bartenders and Hotel and Restaurant Employees.

CHARLES P. PORTER SPRINGS A SURPRISE

Resigns as Local Freight Agent of the Wabash Effective Tuesday.

The railway men of Fort Wayne and a vast number of others in business and shipping circles will be surprised to learn that Charles P. Porter has resigned as freight agent at this point of the Wabash, the same becoming effective Tuesday. Mr. Porter is succeeded by J. A. Curtin, of St. Louis, who with the auditors arrived today for the checking in and checking out of the agency and tomorrow Mr. Curtin will be local agent of the company. It is understood that he has a vast experience in the freight handling business, though he was never an agent. No change in the personnel of the local freight office, other than the one mentioned is expected.

Mr. Porter came to Fort Wayne in 1893 to take the position of bill clerk in the Wabash freight office. Thence through a series of promotions he was advanced to assistant cashier and later cashier, holding the latter office six years. In 1912 he was appointed to the agency at Napoleon, Ohio, and in May, 1916, was recalled to take the position of Fort Wayne agent. In that capacity he became acquainted with every business man, manufacturer and shipper in the city and by courteous and honest dealings, became very popular with all. His retirement from freight circles in the city will be generally regretted. Mr. Porter said this morning that he had not fully decided upon the line of work he would take up. He has two or three propositions under consideration and may decide to accept one of them. However, he is in need of rest and until he gets it, he says, he will not decide upon future occupation.

LARGEST IN ITS HISTORY.

Will Be the Membership of the G. E. Apprentice School.

The apprentice school at the General Electric works, over which W. J. Hooker has charge, is going to be the greatest in a numerical way, as well as in results, this year than any of the prior years. At present there are over 100 men and boys enrolled and upwards of seventy-five girls. The latter are all from the factory and the course they will take is not yet fully decided. A new feature this year will be a class made up of stenographers and clerks in the offices. This class is now forming and at present has an enrollment of twenty-eight. A portion of the school opened last week and other divisions will be opened during the present week.

CHAUFFEURS GIVEN CHARTER.

The Truck Drivers' Chauffeurs' and Helpers' local No. 478 was yesterday given its charter and is now permanent organization in this city. The following members were elected officers to guide the destinies of the infant union for the coming year: President, William Tracey; vice president, Elmer Strong; secretary-treasurer, C. R. Diek; recording secretary, H. Hewitt; warden, I. H. Dennis; conductor, E. B. Rolly; trustees, Lee Palmer, three years; F. Braden, two years; O. T. Shaw, one year; delegates to the Fort Wayne Federation of Labor, F. Black and William Tracey. These men will be seated as the local delegates at the meeting of the federation of labor tonight. The local, which will meet in Dehm's hall, 1102 Calhoun street every Friday night at 8 o'clock, was organized by John C. Werkman and Henry C. Hoeltje, organizers for the American Federation of Labor.

HARKENRIDER PROMOTED.

Thomas A. Harkenrider, employed for the past five years at the east car shops, left last evening for Pittsburgh, Pa., to assume new duties in connection with the master car builders' department of the Pennsylvania company. Mr. Harkenrider in the city, having taken an active part in basketball, playing on the St. Mary's team, and last season refereed several games. A fine umbrella was presented to him by the foremen and office employees Saturday.

ADVICE TO SHIPPERS.

A little folder issued by the American Express company advises shippers in sending an express package to "never use a tag and never mark address on a package with chalk or pencil." The folder adds that "When the address on an express shipment is obliterated or detached, it is sent to the "without mark bureau" and search for a clue is conducted by experts. Investigation proves the majority of such cases were addressed with tags insecurely attached or of such poor quality they were torn off—a few were addressed with chalk or lead pencil, which rubbed off. Carelessness in marking—false economy in purchasing tags—using light string instead of twine or wire—deprives both shipper and consignee of the service expected. The result is delay, dissatisfaction, tracing, claims and perhaps the loss of a customer."

FLORIDA TRAIN SERVICE.

The passenger department of the Grand Rapids & Indiana road announces that it will put a semi-weekly through sleeping car in service between Grand Rapids and Jacksonville, Fla., the coming winter. The first car will leave Grand Rapids at 6:15 p. m., Monday, November 5, and pass through Fort Wayne at 12:01 the same night. The same schedule will govern the movement of the sleeping car which will pass through this city at midnight Thursday night. Returning north the special sleeper will leave Jacksonville Monday and Tuesday evenings of each week and pass through Fort Wayne at 8:45 on Wednesday and Saturday mornings. Between Cincinnati and Jacksonville this special sleeping car will be a part of the "Southland," a magnificently appointed all-steel train on the Louisville & Nashville road.

CRASHED INTO A TRAIN.

An automobile driven by Mark Fuika and carrying three other men crashed into the second engine pulling Pennsylvania passenger train No. 136 at 5:40 o'clock this morning on Main street in Dunkirk. The occupants of the automobile realized their peril in time to jump and escape injury, but the auto was completely wrecked. The driver of the automobile miscalculated the speed of the train and the distance to the crossing. He attempted to beat the train to it and failed.

TRESPASSER LOSES FOOT.

While walking at the side of a moving Pennsylvania train in the Lima yards at 1 o'clock Sunday morning, John E. Reed, of that city, slipped in such manner that one of his feet went under a car wheel and was crushed so badly that amputation was necessary. Reed was found in an unconscious condition by T. E. Brodbeck, the night yardmaster, and taken to the Lima hospital. He is not an employee of the railway company.

LIBERTY LEAGUE HEAD HERE.

William New, president of the Trades Union Liberty league, was a Sunday visitor yesterday, as the guest of Bartenders' union, No. 305. Mr. New, who is on his annual inspection trip for the organization of which he is the head, states that working conditions are very favorable in this state. He left last night for South Bend for several days after which he will return to Fort Wayne.

MRS. MORING WILL PRESIDE.

Mrs. Laura Moring will have charge of the classes for printers' apprentices at the vocational school, on Tuesday and Thursday nights, beginning tomorrow night. All apprentices must attend this school and unless they can show an attendance mark of 90 per cent they will not be entitled to the increase of wages given apprentices at the close of the term.

NOW LIVES IN HAMMOND.

James A. Lechler, general organizer in the central states for the Machinists' union, is now a resident of Hammond, Ind., having moved his family to that city in order that he might be near the scene of his most important field of labor. Mr. Lechler was employed a number of years in the Wabash shops prior to assuming the duties of his present office two years ago.

HERE ON FURLOUGH.

Frank Williams, formerly of this city and connected with the Bess Foundry and Machine Co. but now a member of the United States army as artilleryman stationed at Fort Thomas, Ky., is spending a furlough with relatives, friends and former shopmates. Frank states that soldier life is the only thing for a young man to follow.

WABASH OFFICIALS COMING.

A special train from St. Louis will bring all of the higher officials of the Wabash here this evening. They will remain over night and will attend the annual meeting of the stockholders and the railway officials tomorrow. It will be held in the office of Leonard, Rose & Zollars, attorneys for the company.

FEDERATION MEETS TONIGHT.

One of the most important meetings of the year will be held tonight by the Fort Wayne Federation of Labor at their hall in the Dehm building on Calhoun street. Questions which came up at the State Federation convention at Anderson last month will be up for discussion and therefore, it is very important for all members to attend.

RESUMES HIS DUTIES.

Walter A. Barrett, sales manager of the Bass firm and also chairman of the Third district conscription board of this city, has returned from a two weeks' vacation motoring through Indiana, Ohio and Kentucky. He resumed his duties this morning.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

Frank Burns, gang foreman of the Pennsylvania round house, is off duty on account of sickness in his family. M. Burco has been given employment as a laborer in the Pennsylvania power plant. H. H. Niswander, draftsman of the Pennsylvania piece work department, is off duty due to sickness. Engineer T. M. Krons, of the G. R. & I., has returned to his duties, after an absence of two or three days. M. L. Labor, passenger car builder at Pennsy east car shops, is on the sick list. F. H. Wass, of the Pennsylvania car machine shop, has been transferred to the night shift to fill the vacancy caused by F. R. Anglin resigning. E. Moon will be Wass' assistant. Jacob Rodemund, rivet heater at the Pennsy boiler shop, is unable to work and gives sickness as the reason. A. R. Hickman is a new machinist in the Pennsylvania machine shop, having started work this morning. The Wabash will handle the "Very Good Eddie" company from this city to Mation, via Wabash, tomorrow. J. F. Betts, division operator of the Pennsylvania, went to Grand Rapids on business for the company this morning.

Machinist F. P. Corners, of the Pennsylvania erecting shop, returned from Chicago and resumed his duties this morning. A. C. Durbin, work inspector at the Pennsy east car shops, has returned to work after being off several days due to sickness.

M. C. Beard, passenger truck repairman at the Pennsylvania east car shops, has reported for work after being on the sick list for several days. Mike Gaffer, painter at the Western Gas works, returned to work this morning after being off several weeks on account of sickness.

H. V. Miller, Pennsylvania boiler-maker, resumed his duties this morning after being on the sick list for the past three weeks.

Joseph Volz has accepted employment as a lineman for the Pennsylvania and assumed his new duties this morning.

C. F. Tielker, Pennsylvania blacksmith helper, has returned to work this morning after being off several days on account of a minor accident.

Mrs. Gladys Lilley, clerk in the Pennsy east car shop office, has returned to her duties this morning after spending several days with her sister at Chicago.

Car Repairman F. Sitko, of the Pennsylvania east car shops, has resumed his work this morning after nursing an injured eye for the past week.

Engineer A. M. Barker, who is taking treatment at a sanitarium at Buffalo, N. Y., returned to that city yesterday, after a visit with his folks in Fort Wayne a few days.

Mrs. Matilda Munn will entertain the members to the Woman's Union Label League, and their friends, Wednesday afternoon at her home, 1223 Clark street.

P. O. Smith, an engineer in the sales department of the General Electric works, appeared at the office this morning for the first time in two weeks. He was sick.

Miss Josephine Zimmerman resumed her duties in the main office of the General Electric works this morning. She was out enjoying a portion of her vacation time last week.

H. Rohrbach, machinist helper at the Pennsylvania erecting shop, resumed his duties this morning, after being off several days nursing a sore eye.

Leo Jehl and William Shovlin, pipe fitters at the Wabash shop, went to Chicago yesterday to see the ball game, failed to get home this morning in time to report for duty.

James A. Foster, foreman of the driver air brake department at the Pennsylvania shops, is this week spending his vacation and F. Billie has been selected to act as foreman in his place.

Bernard Kemmeter, of Jefferson, Wis., a graduate of the Tri-State university, took employment as a tester with Foreman Raymond Hoffman in the testing department of the General Electric works this morning.

B. H. Hanin and Fred Weberuss, both of the Pennsylvania car machine shop, resumed their duties this morning after spending Saturday and Sunday at Chicago taking in the Sox and Giant games.

Carl Woodworth, formerly of this city and now with the American Arch Brick Co., headquarters in Chicago, was a business caller at the Pennsylvania offices today in the interests of his firm.

Mrs. J. Kossman, of Chicago, is spending several days in this city visiting her brother, T. G. Wyneken, of 2730 South Hoagland avenue. Mr. Wyneken is chief clerk of the Pennsylvania piecework department.

C. H. Johnson, car repairman at the Pennsy east car shops, is unable to perform his duties, due to an accident while lifting a center sill, which slipped, dropping on his foot and bruised the member painfully.

Miss Martha B. Underwood, whose home is in Harrisburg, Pa., took employment as a stenographer for C. R. Branson, chief motive power inspector of the Pennsylvania, this morning. Miss Underwood was employed for a while in the office of the Anthony Wayne Institute, a correspondence school.

A card from William Rufner, 153 department brigade, Camp Taylor, Ky., received at the General Electric works this morning states that he is well pleased with soldier life as far as his experience has gone. "I'm getting fat as a pig," he writes. Mr. Rufner is a son of Conductor Samuel Rufner, of the Pennsylvania.

REV. AND MRS. TRAVIS LEAVE THIS WEEK FOR ENGLEWOOD

REV. C. CLAUD TRAVIS.

MRS. C. CLAUD TRAVIS.

SOLEMN CLOSING AT ST. PATRICK'S CHURCH

Masterly Sermons Mark Forty Hour Devotion Services.

With crowds taxing the capacity of the church the forty hour devotional services were observed in a very impressive manner at the St. Patrick's church. Rev. Wendell Corcoran assisted by Rev. Richard Collentine, who officiated at the services, preached a number of masterly sermons throughout the meetings.

Sunday was marked by a number of solemn services, five masses were held in the morning and the holy hour was observed from 2:30 to 3:30, conference for the ladies of the Rosary society from 3:30 until 4 o'clock, and the solemn closing at 7:45.

Two thousand people were present at the closing Sunday night. Besides a number of clergy who were present, twenty-five priests, local and visiting, took part in the ceremonies. Rt. Rev. Mgr. John H. Oechtering, V. G. R., rector of St. Mary's church, was celebrant; Rev. Joseph A. Lynn, pastor of St. Vincent's church, Academie, deacon; Rev. Edward Dillon, of the Cathedral, secretary to Rt. Rev. Bishop Alderd, sub-deacon; Rev. John Dapp, of St. Peter's church, chanter; Rev. Nicholas Keller and Rev. John G. Bennett, of St. Patrick's, master of ceremonies. One hundred took part in the procession of the blessed sacrament, the number including all of the priests, twenty-three acolytes, twenty-two of the boys of the year's first communion class and thirty little girls, six of their number acting as flower maids.

Devotion at Huntington. The celebration of the forty hour services began Sunday at the St. Peter and Paul's church, Huntington, with the Rev. Eugene J. Gehl, of St. Francis, Wis., officiating. The solemn closing on Tuesday evening will be attended by a number of neighboring clergy from Fort Wayne and vicinity.

Church Notes.

The Missionary society of the East Creighton avenue Church of Christ, will meet Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 at the home of Mrs. Rankner, 2523 Holton avenue.

The Lakeside division of the Ladies' Aid society of the First M. E. church will meet Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. M. Van Camp, 1132 Columbia avenue.

The Fidelity circle of the King's Daughters will give a parcel post package sale at the West Jefferson street Church of Christ, Oct. 11, for the benefit of the circle's work in charitable avenues.

Held Special Services.

The combined services of the Salvation Army speakers at the Plymouth Congregational church, ended the week-end services Sunday evening. Col. E. A. Kimble held the services at the First Presbyterian church Sunday morning, and his secretary, H. Hopkins, made the address at the First Christian church. The organ recital by Commander Keeler was especially commendable. Contributions were liberally given to the cause, and an urgent invitation was issued to the speakers to hold other services in the near future.

TO HOLD CONFERENCE BEFORE OPENING DRIVE

Captain Gille Leads Band Which Carries Victory in First Charge.

Before launching the active movement of Allen county's great liberty loan drive the executive committee of the county effort will hold a conference on Wednesday evening at 7:45, at the liberty loan headquarters, on East Perry street. The meeting was slated for Monday morning, but was later postponed. All plans for the house to house campaign will be made out on Wednesday night.

As a sort of barrage fire to the "over the top" rush of the bond sale, seven men in Springfield township have agreed to take $10,000 worth of the bonds. That amount is all that was originally assigned to the township. A larger quota will be furnished, however, at the request of Captain Gille, who is leading the Springfield township drive.

C. H. Worden, chairman of the county liberty loan committee, states that the city of Fort Wayne will be prepared to do her share in aiding the dollar enlistments in democracy's cause. Many wealthy people of the city have already asked for the bonds, it is stated.

BRIDGE FALLS.

Arthur Hall Killed in Accident Near Milford, Saturday.

Milford, Ind., Oct. 8.—As the result of his horse and wagon falling through a temporary bridge over a deep ditch two miles south of here, Saturday, Arthur Hall, 29 years old, was instantly killed. The bridge had been serving for several weeks at a temporary bridge while the permanent bridge was being repaired.

When Hall drove upon the bridge it suddenly gave way, throwing him and his wagon to the bottom of the ditch. He was pinned beneath the wagon in three feet of water. Hall was married and lived about half a mile north of here.

of the city, burned down about 5 o'clock this morning with a loss of several hundred dollars. The origin of the fire is unknown to the night watchmen, Alva Householder and Cal Elzey, who stated that they could have extinguished the blaze at the start had they a few buckets of water handy. The building contained the pump and two motors, a large one and a small one. These, with the boiler and other pieces of machinery, were destroyed. It is thought that the blaze started from defective wiring.

CHILD'S BANK FOUND.

Bluffton, Ind., Oct. 8.—In a corn field on the John Shafer farm, in Villa North, a child's bank, stolen from the G. Hookenson home a week ago, was found yesterday and turned over to Marshall Zetter. The money had not been taken out. The Shively boy is still in jail and has confessed to numerous thefts. A Decatur man was in the city yesterday and identified a ring that Shively had stolen from his house. The boy admitted breaking into the house. The ring was kept here and will be used as evidence. The lad will probably be given a hearing next week.

ROBBERS AT PORTLAND.

Portland, Oct. 8.—The safe of the Cline Wilt Lumber company was robbed last night of $95, the burglars making their entrance through a window. The work probably had been carefully planned, as the intruders were forced to wind their way through the shed into the office. No clue is at hand. The work was probably that of professionals. The front door of the safe was smashed.

SAFE IN FRANCE.

Warsaw, Oct. 8.—A cablegram has been received by C. L. Bartol, announcing the arrival of his son, Lieutenant Walter Bartol, "Somewhere in France." The cable also said that Lieut. Frank Swihart, of Warsaw, had arrived safe. Lieutenants Bartol and Swihart attended the first officers' training school at Fort Benjamin Harrison and received their commissions there.

MILLERS OF INDIANA FACE WHEAT FAMINE

Many Farmers and Some of the Speculators Will Not Sell Grain.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 8.—Millers in Indiana are facing a wheat famine. The scarcity of grain is not due to it not being raised, but is due to the fact that the farmers, and in some instances persons who have purchased from the farmers, are refusing to sell to the mills at the price fixed by the government, although that price is the highest on record for harvest time. Reports that some of the mills are running on a day to day supply, and the largest in the state have but a ten days' supply in stock have been made to Dr. H. E. Barnard, representative of the national food administration in Indiana, and he has prepared a report to that effect which he will make to the state council of defense.

The situation in this state is that the millers have pledged a definite amount of flour to the government for the use of the army and navy. The millers now say they are having great difficulty in keeping their pledges because they cannot get the grain to grind in sufficient quantities. Various methods of getting the wheat have been suggested, but Dr. Barnard says it is not the present policy of the food administration or government to compel the sale of the grain on the price fixed for the government standard.

The consensus of opinion, however, is that if the farmers and grain owners continue to refuse to sell to the mills and the supply of flour for the army and navy is curtailed, the government will take the necessary action to get the wheat. Such steps are being considered in this state. It is said, but as yet only as a matter of being ready for later developments.

One state official, in discussing the situation said that in his opinion any farmer or other person who has wheat and won't sell at the government price, and curtails the output of flour is in the class of a speculator, profiteer, and is unpatriotic. Such a person is not doing his part in the war, he said.

Dr. Barnard declared the mills must have wheat. He asserted the government does not want to conscript wheat. It wants to get its supplies through the voluntary acts of the producers, but if necessary the government will take whatever action is necessary to keep the mills supplied.

Persons who are familiar with the financial situation of the farmers in this state say that it is unusual. Most of them have made sufficient money during the past year, however, not only to keep themselves financed, but out having to place their crops on the market as soon as harvested, but many of them have paid off mortgages and old debts. That, it is explained, accounts to some extent for the slow movement of grain this year.

You will never have such a splendid opportunity to secure "close-in" home property at such prices and on such terms as in West Brook View RIGHT NOW. The general sale opens Saturday, October 13. Reserve your lot today.

VISITS OLD HOME.

Frank Gibson, 117 Wallace street, who is employed as a messenger by the Adams Express company, is spending a two weeks' vacation visiting the home of his boyhood days in Wilkes-Barre, Pa. Gibson, who enlisted in the civil war at its outbreak, is taking his first visit east in ten years. He served through the entire war and spent part of his time as a war prisoner in Libby and Andersonville prisons. He was paroled and sent north in 1865, but has suffered since as a result of the privations which he suffered in prison. He is a member of the Lawton-Wayne G. A. R. post.

WEEK OF DRINKING ENDS IN SUICIDE

John Smith, an Almost Unknown Laborer, Ends Life in Rooming House.

Deciding that the taking of his life would be an appropriate ending for a week of drunkenness, John Smith, rooming at 289 East Columbia street, committed suicide some time Sunday morning. The body was found by the landlady, Mrs. Vandereheet when she entered his room just after the noon hour. The unfortunate man had literally choked himself to death, by placing his head through a loop of rope, made by tying the two ends to the head board of the bed. When found his head was about two feet from the floor, with the body extended and the toes resting on the carpet.

Smith is a stranger in the city, having come here from Chicago but a few months ago. He was employed as a teamster by the Wildwood companies, but had not attended to his duties for more than a week. A man with whom he had worked while in Fort Wayne stated Sunday evening that Smith had once dropped the remark that he was a deserter from the United States army, and that he had a brother living at Springfield.

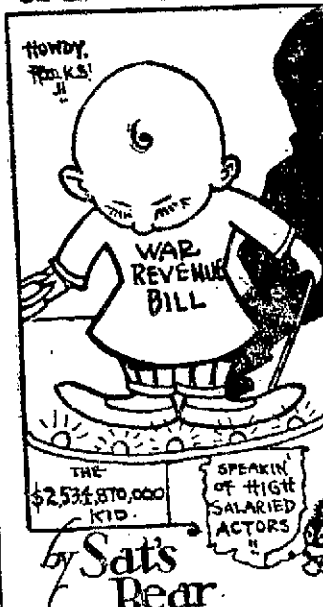

A reply to the queries made by Getz & Cahill in regards to Smith's identity was received from the sheriff of Henry county late Monday afternoon. The communication stated that the man's mother is Tesch Smith, residing on rural route 1, Eaton, Ind., and that there is also a brother residing either in Eaton or Hartford City. The victim's mother will be communicated with at once, and the body will be held here awaiting her orders.

INJURED BOY'S LIFE HANGS IN BALANCE

Ribs Broken and Lung Punctured When Lad is Hit by Auto.

James Connor, aged 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Connor, 116 Mechanic street, wavers between life and death in a ward in St. Joseph hospital as the result of injuries sustained when the lad was struck by an automobile Sunday night. The boy suffers from four fractured ribs and has one lung punctured. He did not regain consciousness until Monday morning.

The Connor lad alighted from a West Main street car at the corner of Mechanic and Main streets Sunday night. He darted around the rear of the car and directly in the path of the automobile driven by Elmer C. Dunclees, 214 Clinton street. The boy was struck and it is thought that a part of the machine passed over his prostrated body.

Dunclees reported to the police that he was not driving at a rapid rate and that he stopped his car in a few feet. He took the boy to St. Joseph hospital. Examination proved that the lad's injuries were critical. Physicians announce that they are unable to offer definite hopes of the boy's recovery at this time.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 8, 1917.

LA FOLLETTE'S VINDICATION.

If Robert M. La Follette's address to the senate, Saturday, in defense of his despicable course since the war first involved this country were his swan song the American people might very well be glad that it had been delivered. Leaving even that devoutly to be wished for consummation out of mind, there remains a good reason to approve the stubbornness that impelled him to attempt a justification by speech.

His vindication of himself leaves him worse in the mire of his folly and hatefulness than he was before he set up his defense to the senate. His words make no appeal to common sense, to enlightenment or to reason. They find no answer in the mind and heart of the body of the people. They seek to conjure fears for which there is no ground. They misrepresent the facts of recent history. They falsify what is the common knowledge. They disclose no sincerity of purpose. They have no savor of honesty. They reek and stink of all the foul distempers of mind that for half a year have made this prancing egotist a jargonist and a national menace. They are destitute throughout of the least flash of a spirit that can be called American—from beginning to end hateful to loyalty and odious to patriotism.

La Follette completely ignores the ominous fact, the stupendous truth that this nation no longer debating and fearing war, but is in war—the greatest war in all mankind's history with the most powerful and ruthless foe that ever has asserted with the sword its lust for dominion. Not a word of that in La Follette's speech. He completely ignores the invasions, the outrages and the extinction that American rights have sustained at the hands of the imperial German government. Not a word of that in La Follette's speech. He completely ignores the abuses of our friendship, the betrayals of our confidence, the violations of our neutrality, the meddlings in our politics, the plottings in our midst, the conspiracies hatched and launched against our peace, the intrigues, the spying, the employment of mercenaries, the corruptions of publishers and publicists, the dynamitings, the killings, the pouring of a swollen tide of polluted gold into a thousand channels of our life and society to constrain this land against its honor and its duty before we went to war and to weaken, cripple and if possible destroy us after the conflict drew us in—in short, the whole atrocious and sickening mass of Prussian insolence, insult, contempt and infamy that have audaciously made up and boldly signaled the German propaganda in the United States of America. Not a word of that in La Follette's speech. Not a word of our murdered dead in the seas. Not a word of our armies now in France. Not a word of the ships that today are carrying the glorious traditions of the American navy to the death-infested waters of the other side. Not a word of the coercions Potsdam attempted to place upon the national congress in which La Follette holds a seat for a great and honorable state. Not a word of the unspeakable atrocities in war that have given the Prussian war lords a deathless infamy.

Of all this and vastly more of its kind that might be set down, not one word.

But there is much and to spare in denunciation of the government of the United States, in arraignment of its policies, in questioning of its acts, in accusation of its purposes, in impeachment of its aims and in holding it up as a truculent aggressor against the benign peacefulness and charitable good will of the kaiser and the Prussian caste.

To sum up, the La Follette vindication is at once an indictment of his country and government and a brief for the kaiser and Prussianism. Nothing else can be made of it.

Coming fast upon the heels of Haig's last smash in Flanders the accents of La Follette's address to the senate of the United States will fall upon cheerless Berlin like heaven's dew in the desert and minister comfort and solace to the torn bosoms of the anointed William and the arch-priests of Prussianism. It is well that Robert Marion La Follette, senator of the United States for the commonwealth of Wisconsin, made that speech. It permits his constituents and all his countrymen else—if they will forgo that term—to know him better than perhaps they did—to know him better as he is and for what he is.

REPUDIATING A SLACKER.

It is a pleasure to note that Joshua Strange, chairman of the executive committee of the Farmers' National congress, has endorsed the second Liberty Loan. It is a satisfaction to note also that he repudiates the attitude of that prince of slunkers and slackers, Dr. H. B. Stockbridge, the president of the Farmers' National congress, who answered the appeal of Secretary McAdoo for the co-operation of the congress by saying "it meets little appeal from us."

President Stockbridge rested his unpatriotic attitude upon the raise of postage rates in the war revenue measure, which he conceived would harm the agricultural press of the country. A more sordid view of the war has not been taken by anybody that we know of and Stockbridge deserved the stinging rebuke administered by Secretary McAdoo, who said to him that "if you really entertain the sentiments you have expressed in your telegram, it is a pity these brave men must fight for you, because you are not worth fighting for." Dr. Stockbridge will understand that those words find echo throughout the country and nowhere more readily and strongly than among the patriotic farmers of America for whom he assumes to speak and, speaking, misrepresents.

We believe that the American farmers, prosperous as at no other period in the history of American agriculture and able to lend money to their government, will make the same response to the common appeal to the patriotism of all the people of the nation for the Liberty Loan that the farmers so splendidly made for an increase of food production. The farmers of the United States are just as essentially and just as loyally Americans as any other class of our citizenship and they will belie their honorable history in every national crisis heretofore if in this supreme test of our national strength they shall fail to bear their part in whatever ways it is given them to uphold their government and defend their country.

Dr. Stockbridge's position and sentiments have a singular correspondence with the spirit and attitude of those radical suffragists for whom Mrs. Henry O. Havemeyer sought to speak a few days ago, when she gave public announcement to the purpose of the national woman's party to "have nothing whatever to do with the campaign for the second Liberty Loan" because certain rowdy sisters of the propaganda of violence had been arrested in Washington for their creation of disorders and disturbances of the peace. Upon the question of an increase of postage for purpose of the national defense Dr. Stockbridge would have the tremendous agricultural interests of the country leave the nation fenceless to its enemies. Because they cannot have their obstinate and foolish way forthwith on demand the militant suffragists would strike the government helpless of financial power to carry on the battle for the safety of our land.

These two—the man and the woman—are a well-mated pair of slackers who descend even below the level of the coward who, as the common type of slacker, has at least the excuse of a craven soul to shrink from baring his breast to the enemies of his home and the foes of his country.

A Liberty Loan bond is a substantially comforting thing to have about, altogether aside from the patriotic satisfaction of having come to the aid of the government and the defense of the land. A Liberty bond is in all essential respects cash, for it can be converted into cash without trouble. It has the advantage over hoarded money in that it draws interest. If you want a permanent investment the bond is the thing. If you want something that will be one hundred per cent collateral at any time the bond is the thing. If you want something that you can render into cash on probably an hour's notice if your stress should ever become so great, the bond is the thing. Altogether, a Liberty Loan bond is the best you can just now do with your money, for in such an investment you will at once discharge your patriotic duty and minister to your own advantage.

LIBERTY'S NEW TORCH.

BY W. A. ROGERS, CHICAGO HERALD

Should Take Loan Ten Times Over

BY A. C. BABIZE,
Manager Investment Now, Chicago.

The first liberty loan was oversubscribed largely through patriotism. The second liberty loan should be oversubscribed ten times because no higher grade, sounder, safer, better investment can or will be ever presented. Compared to a real estate mortgage, the document with which the average individual is most familiar it outclasses it as the blooded stock outclasses the common.

Subscription to a 4 per cent government bond of the standing of the United States is a privilege which wage earners have never enjoyed in the past; it is an opportunity unique in the history of this country. That you may understand, let me first tell you what a bond is:

A bond is a fractional part of a mortgage. An entire issue of bonds—whether the issue comprises 1,000 or 1,000,000 bonds—represents the mortgage and that mortgage is secured by collateral property frequently far in excess of the amount represented by the bond issue. But the bond mortgage applies equally to each separate bond, whether that bond be for $100 or for $10,000. Let me see if I can make this plainer.

The average mortgage taken by the individual on his property usually represents approximately 50 per cent of the entire value of the property—that is, on a piece of real property worth $10,000, the usual amount of mortgage taken would be $5,000; that is $5,000 would be the amount loaned on that property. When a bond issue is financed, however, the collateral properly given to secure the ultimate payment of the bond issue at maturity is not infrequently three, four, five times as much as the amount of the bond issue. Now, then, when does a government bond issue stand relative to ultimate repayment at maturity? First mortgage bond issues rank higher according to the credit of the principals bringing out his issue; also according to the amount of collateral properly hypothecated—thus is put up—in insurance payment. That corporate bonds are good; municipal bonds—bonds of cities and towns—are considered a little better; bonds of state rank still higher. The government bonds rank highest.

Why? Because if a limited number of people in a community pledge themselves to make good their obligations, when a national pledge is from an entire nation that the chances of so much superior to meet the obligation are reduced to practically zero. The second liberty loan is such a government obligation; it is the obligation of the United States, of the nation, of all the people, pledging itself, and themselves through their chosen representatives at Washington, President Wilson and congress itself, to pay that obligation as per its terms and on the dates fixed.

To you, therefore, citizen of the nation, farmer, shop keeper, wage earner, this pledge means much. It means that in your individual capacity you have in a measure—small though it may be—agreed that in the future you would meet the obligation you would see to it that that obligation would be fulfilled. It means that as you pay your honest debts as you go along, so will the help and the help of millions of others—this bond debt of the nation to pay comes. And your neighbor, your friend, your business associate, your co-worker, all have assumed the same obligation, throughout the forty-eight states, millions of them, and as they pay their just debts, and as you pay your debts, so Uncle Sam will pay this debt. I propose to go one step further. I am going to tell you that if this bond is not worth 100 cents on the dollar—and more—then your money in the bank, or in your pocket; your home; or your farm; or your job; or your future existence is not worth a red cent per. For this country itself, as we know it, this United States of America, would be wiped out. Consider the entire wealth of the country is put up as collateral for this loan. That's a great deal more than the collateral back of any greenback you carry, because the money you carry is backed up only partially; by only so much credit as this country enjoys. That's all and no more.

Liberty loan bonds safe? Why, if they are not the safest thing on earth, then your job, your business, your farm, your life, your very life is unsafe. Liberty bonds will survive when all else goes.

In investing in them you are therefore investing not only in the safest security ever issued, you are investing your money at a rate of interest far better than any other investment would bring.

A farm mortgage returns from 5 1/2 to 7 per cent. A corporation bond returns, say 5 to 7 per cent. The liberty loan bond will return to you 4 per cent. This 4 per cent, is better than the 6 1/2 per cent mortgage or the 7 per cent corporation bond. You ask why. Mortgage and corporation bonds are subject to taxes—income, war, etc. These taxes absorb near 1 1/2 per cent of the annual interest rate, leaving a net behind not to exceed 4 to 6 per cent. In the case of the liberty loan there is no tax, unless we consider the surtax, which cannot under any circumstances reach a small investor, because his income is not reached by the surtax. The 4 per cent, therefore, is net. Moreover the chance of depreciation in the case of corporation bonds or mortgages is about 50-50. That is why they will fluctuate downward in times of business stress and are liable to lose several points in value. Not so with the government bonds. The fluctuation of such securities is so small as to be insignificant. On the other hand the chances of added value is so great that the probabilities of their selling higher, when normal days return, amount practically to a certainty. Much has been the experience in all the years of the existence of this government and its absolute certainty that such will be the case again. The liberty bond may sell as high as 104 or 105 in the next few dozen years. This difference between 100, what you are asked to pay for the bonds now, and that price will be your profit plus the 4 per cent interest.

Where then can you make a better investment? What security can you purchase that will give you as high a yield with such security behind? I will tell you unhesitatingly that no such other security exists or has ever existed. Buy a liberty bond then. Go into debt with your bank if need be. It will force you to economize in order to pay for it, perhaps, but it will incite thrift in you, a virtue more or less unknown in this big land of ours.

These are my reasons why you should buy a liberty bond. Farmer, artisan, laborer, all you who work in factory, invest; invest in a liberty bond. Opportunity knocks but once, don't let opportunity miss you this time. Grasp the chance and thank Heaven such a privilege was offered you.

WHOLE WORLD SHORT OF COAL AS WINTER AND WAR MAKE CALL

By GILSON GARDNER.

All the world will be short of coal this winter. The United States will be 100,000,000 tons short, but Europe will be almost coalless. Only for war purposes, and the bare necessities, will Europe use coal.

In France hotels and dwellings were fireless many months last winter. The best French coal fields are behind the enemy lines near Lens. There was plenty of coal in Newcastle across the channel, but ships were too busy carrying men and munitions.

The situation in Spain has become so acute a royal decree has created a national coal syndicate of fuel producers to stimulate production and regulate distribution and price. The government stands behind this with almost unlimited funds to explore new coal areas, acquire better mining mechanism and encourage mine labor by model housing colonies.

The British have acquired a fair control of the coal situation. When the war began there were about 1,000,000 English mine workers. Of these 340,000 enlisted. Coal production became so curtailed the government tried to return the enlisted miners to the mines. No mine worker in England can now enlist unless his enlistment is certified by local tribunals.

In the United States a similar situation is faced. About seven men from every mine have been drafted. The men do not seek exemption and the operators have hesitated to ask it. But the loss is crippling mining, when the mines are operating at only 70 per cent of their capacity and ought to be producing to the limit.

The demand for coal for purely war uses by our allies is: Italy, 250,000 tons a month or 4,000,000 tons a year; France, 6,000,000 tons; Canada, 3,000,000 tons.

Russia is no exception in the matter of coal shortage.

In July, 1916, Russia started to regulate price and distribution. The navy and arsenals were given first call, then factories having government contracts, then the private consumer. By a recent order the use of wood is substituted in many cases.

Germany is better equipped, having started earlier to wrest the coal industry from private speculation. In September, 1915, the imperial government forced all coal producers into a syndicate which fixes prices. The chief trouble is to secure distribution to the weaker consumers. This has finally been worked out by a card system.

The embargo on coal will keep in the United States much coal which would have been drawn abroad by high prices. Italy, for example, has been paying as high as $100 a ton for coal laid down in Italy.

FROM THE SENTINEL PAGES 25 YEARS AGO

The killing frosts are here.

Miss Sherin, so favorably known to the ladies of Fort Wayne when in business here, has opened a fashionable dress making establishment at No. 53 Twenty-sixth street, near Prairie avenue, Chicago.

While the father and mother and four children were seated about the supper table, lightning struck the home of Albert Kessler, at Rome City, and all were prostrated by the shock. Some of the family remained unconscious for two hours.

Forty-five members of the Hendricks club and many members of the Jefferson club gathered in front of the Wayne hotel last evening and, headed by the Fort Wayne City band, started on a march to the Tenth ward pole raising. Speeches were made by S. M. Foster, W. H. Shambaugh, E. V. Emrick and Judge Hench.

About a month ago Charles Croft, a young man residing at No. 150 Horace street, accidentally shot himself in the abdomen while cleaning a small target rifle. Croft was a brakeman employed by the Pennsylvania railway at one time. An accident rendered him a paralytic. He was given a position in Trainmaster Walton's office as caller, but his wound became worse a few days ago and caused his death this morning. His remains were taken in charge by Undertaker Felty and will be shipped to Alliance, Pa., for interment. Mr. Croft having formerly resided in that city. The deceased was twenty-three years old.

Kidney Disorder

(BY DR. L. C. BISCOE)

"The most simple methods are usually the most effective ones when treating any disorder of the human system. The mere drinking a cup of hot water each morning, plenty of pure water all day, and a little Anuric before every meal has been found the most effective means of overcoming kidney trouble. Death would occur if the kidneys did not work day and night in separating poisons and uric acid from the blood.

The danger signals are backache, depression, pains, heaviness, drowsiness, irritability, headaches, chilliness, rheumatic twinges, swollen joints or gout.

Since it is such a simple matter to step into drug store and obtain Anuric (double strength), anyone who earnestly desires to regain health and new life will waste no time in beginning this treatment.

INDIANA WOMEN, TAKE THIS ADVICE!

Laporte, Ind.—"When approaching middle life I suffered severely. I had never before suffered with any sort of womanly weakness and I was very much afraid that the critical time would go hard with me, but one bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription completely removed my pains and the change came on so easily that I was scarcely conscious of it. It is fifteen years since I took 'Favorite Prescription' and I am just as strong and well as can be and have never had the least sign of weakness since. I think it the most wonderful medicine for women and would advise its use by all women at the critical time of life."—Mrs. S. J. BAKER, 916 Scott St.

UNCLE HARRY TELLS WHAT THE AMERICAN FORCES IN FRANCE HAVE BEEN DOING

"Uncle Harry," said Joe, "when are the American soldiers and marines in France going to start to fight the Germans? The allied countries were terribly anxious to have an American army come over and now that they're there they haven't begun to fight. I even read in the paper the other day that the American marines had been put to doing guard duty in a number of French villages and towns instead of being sent to the trenches."

"Are you quite through Joe?" asked Uncle Harry, good naturedly, winking at Jimmy and Helen.

"Yes," laughed Joe. "But I've been wondering what our soldiers are do-

"but they have never had the opportunity to engage in fighting on such a great and modern scale as is taking place now in Europe. Consequently they had to be trained to fight as the French and the English fight so that they might have as good a chance as possible against the Germans and in order that the American forces might work together effectively with their allies."

"Tell us some of the things that our soldiers have been learning to do," said Helen.

"Well, in the first place," replied Uncle Harry, "they had to become familiar with the allies' system of ing over there, Uncle Harry, and I wish you'd tell us."

"That's right, Joe," replied Uncle Harry, "in fact I've been expecting that very question from one of you and am prepared to answer it. To sum the matter up briefly, I would say that the American troops in France under General Pershing have been engaged in learning how to fight according to the latest methods that have been developed in the great war."

"But, Uncle Harry," interrupted Jimmy, "I thought that General Pershing's men were all trained and experienced soldiers."

"They are," replied Uncle Harry, trench warfare. While it is true that 'digging themselves in,' as the soldiers express it, for protection against the enemy's fire, was practiced long before the present war, the construction of trenches had been developed to a stage undreamed of in the past. Many of the captured German trenches were found to be part of a vast network of underground passage ways and connecting trenches, some built of concrete and fitted up with all the comforts of home as they say. The American troops, too, have been trained in hand to hand and bayonet fighting, in throwing hand grenades, in the use of gas masks and other devices to protect them from poison gas and liquid flame attacks; in short they have been made skilful in the use of the terrible and destructive weapons of modern warfare. And you can depend upon it, they've been having a mighty strenuous time of it."

"When war was declared, Uncle Harry, and Germany invaded Belgium and France, the Belgian and French soldiers went right into battle without any special training, didn't they?" said Joe.

"That's true," replied Uncle Harry, "but that was a very serious emergency. If the Belgian and French had not taken the field immediately, the German army would have swept right down into Paris. Suppose, for example, a fire were to break out in our city. Any men who happened to be near at hand would probably do all in their power to extinguish the flames; but for purposes of fighting fires the city maintains a fire department composed of men that have been especially trained in schools established for the purpose. So it was with this war. Many of the men who were called immediately into the army were what are known as reservists, that is, they followed their regular occupations in times of peace, but were given a certain amount of military training. In practically all of the European countries, large standing armies have been constantly maintained at a tremendous cost to the people. The way in which those nations are 'sandwiched' in together has always helped to make each suspicious of its neighbor and for some years previous to the outbreak of war there was a feeling that trouble was brewing."

"The English army had to be trained before it was sent to France, didn't it?" said Helen.

"Yes," replied Uncle Harry. "I understand that there are now in active service more than 7,000,000 British soldiers and with the exception of about a hundred thousand of the regular army that went over into Belgium immediately, they are practically all men that have undergone a thorough course of training."

"The United States finds itself in much the same situation as Great Britain was at the outbreak of the war. The people of both countries had never thought it necessary nor favored the keeping of a large army on a war footing. Consequently when war unexpectedly broke out, the great numbers of men for the army had to be taken from peaceful occupations and given months of training in order to make soldiers of them."

"From what I read in the papers at the time we entered the war, Uncle Harry," said Jimmy, "I understood that so many French soldiers had been killed that American troops were needed immediately at the front."

"You are right," replied Uncle Harry, "and I think most of us got the impression that France had been 'bled white' by the losses suffered by her army. Undoubtedly, there was and there is now a need for the American troops on the battle line, but the French army is still a powerful fighting force despite the terrible losses it has experienced."

"And when the soldiers do go into battle against the Germans they will be all the more efficient by reason of their hard training, and no lives will be lost because of lack of acquaintance with the complicated methods of modern warfare."

Editor's Note—Uncle Harry will be glad to answer inquiries, either in this column or by mail, provided letters are signed with full names and address of the persons writing. The correspondents' names will not appear in the articles.

PAY FINAL TRIBUTE TO JUDGE R. K. ERWIN

Thousands Attend Funeral Services of Late Jurist
Sunday Afternoon.

Thousands attended the funeral services of the late Judge Richard K. Erwin, held at the Scottish Rite cathedral Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The body lay in state from 10 o'clock Saturday morning until 1 o'clock in the afternoon. The funeral sermon was delivered by the Rev. Mr. A. G. Neal, of the First Methodist Episcopal church.

The theme for the sermon was "Good Citizenship," and taken from the text, "Seest thou a man diligent in his business, he shall stand before kings." Music for the service was furnished by Hugh G. Keegan, Dr. Gaylord M. Leslie, Earl Thompson and E. F. Yarnelle.

Many out-of-town friends were present at the ceremonies, more than two hundred coming from Decatur, and an equally large number came in a special car from Indianapolis. Among those from Indianapolis were: Supreme Court Judges Hon. John W. Spencer, Hon. Lawson M. Harvey, Hon. David A. Myers and Hon. Moses B. Laly. Appellate court judges—Hon. Milton B. Hottel, Hon. Edward W. Felt, Hon. Nathan A. Dausman, Hon. Joseph G. Bach and Hon. Fredrick S. Caldwell, Attorney General Ele Stansbury and wife, Charles E. Cox, ex-judge supreme court; Adolph Schreiber, librarian; Leander J. Monks, ex-judge supreme court; Judge John J. Rochford, supreme court, Indianapolis; George Batchelder, secretary of the bar association; W. G. Carpenter, assistant court reporter; Merritt H. Perkins, clerk to John W. Spencer; Samuel E. Garrison, clerk to Moses B. Laly; Samuel L. Callaway, deputy clerk supreme court; J. Fred France, clerk supreme court; Gus Stewart, custodian supreme court.

CALUMET BAKING POWDER

For instance, one spoonful of Calumet will positively do the work of two spoonfuls of most other kinds. You use only a level teaspoonful to a cup of flour. With other brands you must use twice as much. You use the smallest amount of Calumet because you get the greatest gas strength. Besides—Calumet never fails—stops all baking losses—reduces bills for baking ingredients. The great savings of Calumet are shown in these results.

SOCIETY

The announcement is made by Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Ellingham of the approaching marriage of their only daughter, Winifred, to Capt. James Ewing Bond, of the 333rd Infantry, U. S. A., which will take place next Saturday morning at 11 o'clock at the family residence, 1301 West Wayne street, with only relatives and the most intimate friends present. Miss Ellingham has lived in Fort Wayne less than two years but she has been received with much cordiality in society by reason of her sincere and charming manner. Miss Ellingham was graduated two years ago from Belmont seminary, Washington, D. C., and since then has been for the greater part of the time at home. Captain Bond is the only son of Mrs. Georgiana Bond and of the late Charles E. Bond, one of the city's most prominent bankers, cashier and vice president of the Old National bank and a descendant of a pioneer family of the city. Captain Bond completed his studies at the Fort Wayne high school, then entered the University of Michigan and was graduated in the class of 1915, one of the popular men of the university and one who is admired for his many fine qualities. When the first call for volunteers came Mr. Bond enlisted in the office of the reserve corps. He received his commission at Camp Fort Benjamin Harrison and is now located at Camp Taylor, Louisville, Ky. Mr. Ellingham's long and prominent connection with journalism in Indiana, both at Decatur and this city, his four years incumbency of the office of secretary of state at Indianapolis and his long activity in political leadership have given the family a state-wide circle of acquaintanceship and the announcement of Miss Ellingham's engagement and wedding date will enlist the interest of a host of friends throughout Indiana.

Mrs. E. W. Puckett, assisted by Mrs. Perry Archer and Mrs. W. D. Henderson, entertained a company of knitters and bridge players at a Red Cross party this afternoon, at her home in Forest Park boulevard. About twenty ladies enjoyed the entirely agreeable hospitality of the three hosts and gladly made their contributions whether they knitted or passed the time at the card table.

One of the chain of contributors to the series of bridge games inaugurated first with a big party at the Country club is Mrs. E. H. Merrill, who invited eight ladies to her home this afternoon, who had not been included in previous invitations. These parties are also Red Cross helpings toward the yarn fund.

Miss Emma Messing, a dramatic reader, and an Indiana girl, has been engaged to give a reading at the Country club on Wednesday afternoon at the club's weekly social gathering. The ladies to act as hosts for the afternoon are to invite as guests, ladies who have had no previous invitation to the club this season. The program will begin at 8 o'clock. Miss Messing's latest success is her interpretation of Percy Mackaye's drama, "Jeanne d'Arc." The hosts for the afternoon will be Mrs. C. E. Bond, chairman; Mrs. E. H. Miller, Mrs. H. J. Miller, Mrs. F. B. Shoaff, Mrs. C. M. Niezer, Mrs. Dan Ninda, Mrs. Edith Andrews, Mrs. Chester Nathan, the Misses Pickard, Miss Olds and Miss May Jewell Smith.

Miss Matilda Loos has gone to Chicago to spend a week with her brother before leaving for Arizona.

The meeting tomorrow of the Pickwick Literature club is postponed. Miss Marie Whitehead, of Albany, Ga., arrived in the city on Monday to visit Miss Winifred Ellingham and will remain until after the Bond-Ellingham wedding.

The Athens club will meet tomorrow with Mrs. Ralph Sharp, of Florida drive.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Barrett, of Wildwood avenue, have returned from an automobile trip through southern Indiana, Ohio and Kentucky.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Bowers, of West Suntenfeld street, left on Saturday for Chicago to remain a few days.

Mrs. Thomas P. Ewing has gone to Cleveland to visit her sister, Mrs. W. H. Kelly and family.

Mrs. J. W. McCausland and Miss Helen Schole have returned from a week's visit in Chicago.

Mrs. Margaret Warburton Nichol, of Pittsburgh, Pa., is visiting her grandmother, Mrs. William MacPhail, and the Misses MacPhail, of Ewing street.

Misses Mary Victor and Lois Morris, of Van Wert, O., spent the end of the week here with Miss Jessie Grenamier.

Miss Edna Shaper, of Libertyville, Ill., is the guest of Miss Eliza Nestle and Charles Nestle, of West DeWald street, and Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Nestle, of Lafayette street.

Mrs. Lyman T. Rawles has gone to Fort Riley, Kan., to visit her husband, Dr. Rawles, who is in the service of the army. Mrs. Rawles' parents, Rev. Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Chapman, have returned from Scranton, Pa.

Miss Mary Brown, of East Williams street, has returned from a visit in Cincinnati and will leave on Sunday with her father, J. B. Brown, for Chicago to visit her sister, Mrs. C. D. Grey, and her brother, R. T. Brown, who formerly resided in this city but is now a druggist in Oklahoma.

Mrs. W. K. Wilder, president of the Hanna school parent-teacher club, has appointed the following committees: Program, Mrs. Arthur Folsom and Mrs. H. A. Ray; calling committee, Mrs. C. D. Stout, Mrs. Braithwaite, Mrs. Theodore Cuthall, Mrs. George Gerlock, Mrs. Henry Gable and Mrs. O. B. Moore; social committee, Mrs. J. A. Norton, Mrs. J. J. Moser, Mrs. William Klingman and Mrs. Harry Smeltzer. The first meeting will be held at the Hanna school Friday afternoon, October 26.

Mrs. George Klunder, of Davis street, was the victim of an agreeable surprise on Friday evening when a number of her friends called to observe her birth anniversary. A game of buncie was played and high scores were made by Mrs. Harry Melchelder, Jr., Mrs. Dahlman, Mrs. Schultz and Mrs. Elyson. A luncheon was served in a dainty manner. Other ladies participating were Mrs. William Felber, Mrs. Harry Ross, Mrs. C. Volhite, Mrs. George Neitzold and Mrs. Harry Melchelder, Sr.

Miss Ethel Smith, of South Broadway, delightfully entertained on Friday evening in celebration of her birth anniversary by entertaining fifteen of her friends. The decorations were carried out in pink and white. Progressive buncie was the amusement until time for a delicious luncheon. Miss Smith received many useful and pretty remembrances of the day. Enjoying this happy occasion were Misses Mary and Grace Bowman, Lucille Ryan, Margaret Freiburger, and Messrs. Elmer Molitor, Carl Getz, Frank Brower.

Pupils Give Good Recital.

There was a large attendance at the students' recital in Minuet hall on Saturday afternoon and the audience was most favorably impressed with the excellence of the work. The most advanced work was done by Miss Hilda Dibble, Miss Katherine Goldsmith and Karl Floering. Miss Dibble and Mr. Floering have become teachers in the school. Misses Nina Foster, Grace Blough, Laura Gerku, Cramer and Clark and Messrs. Rump, Lankman, Bergen, Ray, Huffman, Griffith and Hall, all piano students, gave a good account of themselves and Messrs. Hess, Horstmeier and Stronbeck, violin students, did some interesting work. Following the program were music on the orchestral organ and refreshments with dancing matinee, all under the direction of Mr. Trier. Marcelle Thompson is teacher and director of the conservatory and of the piano pupils.

Celebrated Golden Wedding.

The anniversary of their wedding fifty years ago, Saturday, was celebrated by Mr. and Mrs. Jacob H. Felger, of 618 Davis street, in company with their entire family. The day was a most happy one and its events included an automobile trip to the family home in Lake township where Mr. and Mrs. Felger lived until twelve years ago, and a banquet at 6 o'clock at the Anthony hotel where covers were laid for sixty. Both Mr. and Mrs. Felger are members of St. John's Lutheran church and Rev. and Mrs. Dannecker were members of the company. Judge J. H. Aiken acted as toastmaster, and the following toasts were responded to: "Events of the Past Fifty Years," by Hon. Harry Hilgemann; "A Tribute to Our Parents," by Rev. J. C. Felger; "Intimate Associations Connected With the Celebrants," by William Prill, of Huntington. Songs were sung as follows: "Beautiful Isle of Memory," by Miss Elma Felger; "Because," by Miss Esther Ohneck, and "Just Fifty Years Ago," by Miss Helen Blosser. Mr. John Koons, of Ossian, who, with Mr. Felger, was a member of the Eleventh battery, was present at the celebration, and the children and their families included Mr. and Mrs. William Felger, of Milwaukee, Wis.; Rev. Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Felger, Baltimore, Md.; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Felger, Arcola, W. D. Etta Rickhill, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Kelm, Mrs. L. J. Blosser, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Felger, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Somers and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Felger, all of this city.

AMERICAN KITCHEN IS VALUABLE ALLY IN WAR.

We are winning humanity's war in America's kitchens. Almost over night we have thrown off our habits of wastefulness and organized an army of thrift. But there is such a thing as saving too well. Thrift is not economy when it is carried too far. Food can be saved by adopting starvation rations, but the saving will be a reckless waste. We must conserve our man power. We must keep ourselves in the finest physical condition. Our children must grow lustily. Meager diets will not make a vigorous people. On the contrary, the under-nourished quickly fall victims to disease. That is what is happening in France and Belgium. Famine is followed by pestilences and so while we are urging the American housewife to practice thrift it will be well at the same time to caution her against a parsimony that injures instead of helps.

"Save wisely, but not too well," is a word of caution that may well be posted in our kitchens of thrift.

TO MAKE CAKE WITHOUT EGGS, BUTTER OR MILK.

Two cupsful of white sugar, two cupsful of cold water, two tablespoonfuls of lard, one package of raisins. Mix and boil the ingredients together five minutes. Let get cool.

Then put together with three cupsful of flour, one heaping teaspoonful of soda, one teaspoonful of cinnamon, cloves and all-spice, one-half teaspoonful of salt. Bake one hour in a moderate oven.

Frost With Mocha Frosting.—One-third cupful of butter, one and a half cupsful confectioner's sugar, one tablespoonful cocoa, enough coffee infusion to mix well, one tablespoonful of vanilla.

You can rely upon this fact, "We dry clean properly." Peerless. Phone 6095.

GINGER CUP.

This is a refreshing drink. Squeeze into a bowl the juice of two lemons and add three or four sprigs of fresh mint and one small sliced orange. Sweeten to taste and stand on the ice for two or three hours. Just previous to serving add one pint of chilled water and one bottle of ginger ale, poured from a height. Turn into a tall pitcher half-filled with cracked ice and serve immediately.

GOOD MEAT SUBSTITUTE.

A custard mixture of one egg to a cupful of milk, well seasoned, mixed with well-chopped greens or any leftover vegetables and baked as an ordinary custard, makes an unusual meat substitute.

Ask any salesman with the Fort Wayne Real Estate Board to show you the West Brook View lots.

Dye Believe in Signs? Get Your Lunch Here

S. B. Wade and J. A. Wright are the owners of a restaurant in Selby, Mich. They have a sign: "Wade Right Inn." The picture above showing the hand painted invitation doesn't tell that the owners would do the same thing if a customer tried to Wade Wright by the cashier without stopping.

NOTABLE EVENT AT YALE.

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 8.—The cornerstone of the memorial quadrangle at Yale university which will be a group of buildings given by Mrs. Stephen V. Harkness as a memorial to her son, Charles W. Harkness, of the class of '85, was laid today in the presence of a large gathering of university and municipal officers, faculty members and alumni. This date was linked with the remote past, for exactly 200 years ago the first building was started for Yale college on the New Haven campus.

ANTITRUST SUIT POSTPONED.

New York, Oct. 8.—The government prosecution of the manufacturers' association and several defendants for alleged violation of the Sherman antitrust law, set for today, was deferred until the November term of the federal court. The postponement was agreed upon by Henry A. Wise, leading counsel for the defendants, who was injured in an automobile accident recently.

DISCUSS COAL MINING.

St. Louis, Oct. 8.—Several hundred members of the American Institute of Mining Engineers met in annual convention here today and considered the waste of the natural resources of the country. Francisco S. Peabody, of Chicago, chairman of the commercial production committee of the council of national defense, called the attention to waste of capital and labor in coal mining. Other speakers suggested the opening up of coal mines that ordinarily are not profitable.

REPUBLICAN MEETING.

Republicans of Bloomington will meet at the Ideal garage, 818 High street, Tuesday night, in an effort to organize a Republican club for the west end. It is announced that Attorney Levi Todd will be a speaker.

"A Friend In Need"

HERE IS A SPECIMEN OF FASHION SURE TO WIN THE HEARTS OF ALL

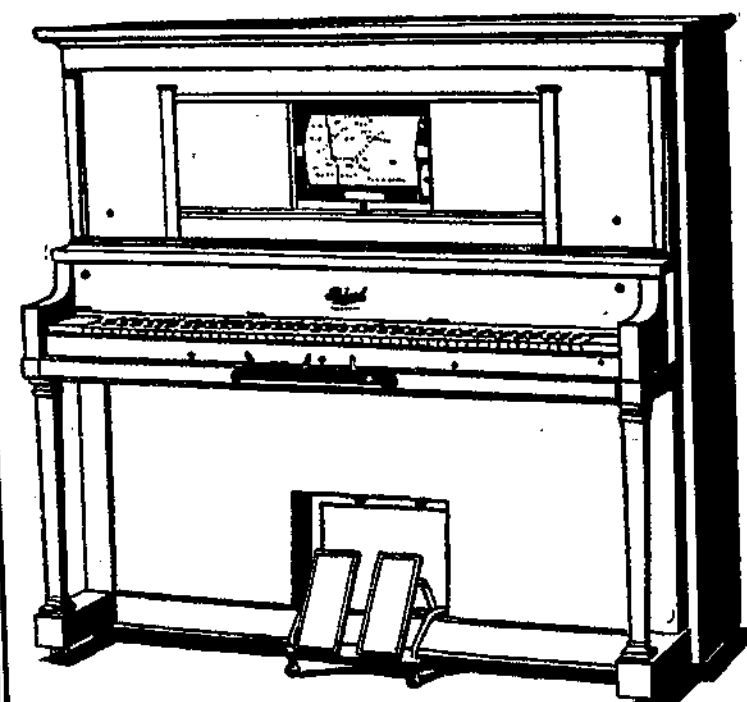

This three-piece set of beaver and beaver, each of which is caught at velvet is the fetching creation of the front-with a tight little pink velvet rose.

The neck piece is a work of art in its skillful blending of velvet, which forms the scarf, the soft satin lining, and the fur which enriches the collar portion and finishes the ends with a band and a tassel.

"To complete the ensemble," as our Paris friends say, is a most delectable bag of velvet which matches the hat and scarf, with its own trimmings of fur band and velvet rose.

Eddie," which will play an engagement at the Majestic tonight. The show has but recently closed an engagement of five months at the Garrick theater, Chicago, which followed a solid year's run in New York. In order to keep the company and performance intact through the summer, the show was sent on a brief tour of the Pacific coast cities, and now returns to begin a new season, with hardly a change in its splendid performance.

connel, and with its entire swagger fashion chorus, which is one of the show's many attractive features. In the company are Denman Haley, George Mack, Harry Meyers, Florence Earl, Helen Raymond, Theodora Warfield, Levia Win, Harry Linkey, Jean DeBriac, Elaine Ford, Ralph O'Brien and thirty others. The music of "Very Good Eddie" is already popular here, but a treat is in store for those who hear the sixteen distinct song hits in the tuneful score as they are sung in the show.

AT THE PALACE

BASEBALL

And Vaudeville Being Presented in Double Bill at Palace.

Continuing its rousing success the big double bill at the New Palace theater will continue on Tuesday and Wednesday, and if the world's series goes over four games, as long as it lasts. On Tuesday the big electric scoreboard will be shown at 3 o'clock, preceding the excellent vaudeville bill, instead of at 3 o'clock. This is possible because the next two games will be played at New York, where eastern time prevails as it does here.

The Bill.
Heading the new bill is the brilliant little musical comedy, "The Inspiration Girls." The girls are well named, for their good looks and melodious voices inspire the Palace fans to visit the theater again and buy seats nearer the front. James Crowley is with the show, and this star, late with "The Red Mill" and other big productions, readily makes a hit with the audience.

With the mirthful tale of two men "bitching" and a beautiful young girl coming on the scene at the opportune moment to save one of the men from loneliness, Johnnie Johnson, Bob Hearty and Grace Eline have a winner in "On the Shrewsbury."

Harris and Manion, with "Uncle Jerry at the Opera," treat the audience to some good music and a lot of real fun. The impressions of the old countryman on his first visit to grand opera are a scream.

"A Courtship in Song" is the offering of Orr and Hager. A chic little songstress is the hit of the act, and the audience takes to the novel song numbers.

Punching the bag with his hands, head and legs, Harry Seeback is a wonder in his line. He has a capable little assistant in his partner, for she not only sings well and punches the bags with unusual skill, but she is very, very good for the eyes.

Danny Simmons is a riot with his "War Recruit." A canny Scotchman who has just joined the army, Danny gets away with a lot of good stuff to the delight of the audience. His impersonation of "Teddy" brings down the house.

AT THE GRAND.

O. HENRY ON THE SCREEN.

"O. Henry" (William Sidney Porter) was the delight of America's short-story lovers. He left a heritage of marvelous tales. Human, over the heads of no one, filled with heart and sentiment, were all his works. With a genial intensity of style, refreshing always, he never omitted to give each story an end that thrilled and surprised. Every one of "O. Henry's" beloved characters is brought to life in Broadway Star Features in a form that approaches the absolute climax of motion picture art. Every Monday and Tuesday you can see one of these famous short stories of O. Henry at the little theater.

The stock is so fine and the bargains so great that several people are buying entire home outfits at our auction sale and storing them until next spring. They find that it pays them well. Sale every evening at 7:30. Central Furniture Co.

LODGE NOTES

Will Go to Maysville.
The degree team of Our Home lodge, No. 881, I. O. O. F., with a number of other members of the order, will go to Maysville tonight to exemplify the three degrees, first, second and third, to a large class of applicants for membership in the lodge of that village. Our Home lodge will also take several of its applicants to Maysville and give them the work of the three degrees. The lodge work will be followed by a supper and the Fort Wayne party will probably be out the greater portion of the night. It is expected to have thirty-five in the party, which will make the trip to and from Maysville in automobiles.

Stirk Circle Announcement.
Mrs. Fannie Gibson, president of the S. W. Stirk circle, Ladies of the G. A. R., announces that the order has nothing to do with the entertainment for which the merchants are being solicited to buy tickets, and states further that the organization has no sympathy with movements which end or drain the purse which has already been overburdened with the war's demands.

VANDALS SMEAR TAR AT THE HIGH SCHOOL

Columbia City School Authorities Are Conducting Thorough Investigation

(Special to The Sentinel.)
Columbia City, Ind., Oct. 8.—Vandals, probably those whose names may be found within the enrollment of the high school itself, did shame to the community and themselves by smearing tar paint over the tile floor entrance, the massive stone pillars and the sidewalk leading to the entrance of the high school building. It will be practically impossible to remove the paint from the pillars, which are daubed with the names of faculty members, and the numerals of the four high school classes. An investigation was begun in the high school
Monday. Superintendent C. E. Spaulding was absent from the city on a business mission when the affair occurred.

ing of evidence of remonstrators for ney's fees of $2,000.

Whitley county, during the first six months of 1917, sent a total of $9,682.64 as auto taxes, and received for that period the sum of $7,456.89, based upon deduction for expense, one-third equal distribution among the counties, and one-third distributed in proportion to the number of autos in the counties.

GERMAN U-BOAT BASES SERIOUSLY MENACED

Haig's Hard Drive Puts Foe in Peril on the Coast of Belgium Says Baker.

Washington, Oct. 8.—Decisive ascendancy for the allies in the supreme test of battle strength now taking place on the bloody fields of Flanders is claimed by Secretary Baker in weekly review of war operations issued by the war department.

While it may be premature to assert that the British war machine has forced a decision over the Germans,
Mr. Baker says, the victories of the last fortnight, threatening the German submarine bases on the Belgian coast are conclusive indications of allied superiority. With favorable weather, he thinks, these victories will be repeated and extended.

The review which is for the week ended last night, makes no reference to the American forces in France or to the great preparations for war going forward at home.

"The attention of the world is focussed on the titanic struggle now going on in Flanders," begins the statement, which, after reciting that the British launched a great offensive after sustaining German attacks, continues in part:

"Slowly, but the more irresistibly, the allied drive at the heart of the German line in the west is sweeping onward.

"The Germans have massed their greatest war strength along this battle front.

"To attack them at their strongest point of resistance is sound strategy.

"The defeats inflicted upon them during the past fortnight are conclusive indications of allied superiority. It may be premature to assert that the British have succeeded in forcing a decision, but it may be stated with emphasis that in no engagement hitherto has such vigor, energy and concerted speed of action been displayed.

"The full success of these operations means that the Belgian coast, with its numerous submarine bases, will become untenable to the enemy. Zeebrugge, Ostend and the system of canals leading out of Bruges are threatened.

"The supreme test of the battle strength of the contending belligerents is taking place. Allied ascendancy would appear decisive.

"The two immediate contributing factors of this success are air control and shell supply.

"The former made it possible for the allies to locate enemy concentrations, the latter to break them up before they could develop into serious offensive actions, at the same time permitting their own concentration of guns to be carried out with clock work regularity, unhampered by enemy interference.

"The British are thus able to report that since July 31 last, they have not lost a single gun, while they have captured 332 field and heavy guns and taken 51,435 prisoners. During the fighting of the past two days they have added 4,446 prisoners, including 114 officers to this imposing total.

The enemy realizes the danger he is facing. We may expect him to counter

ONE OF THE SIX ENTRANCES TO COUNTRY CLUB GARDENS

FERTILE TRACTS WILL BE ON SALE THIS WEEK.

On Wednesday morning of this week the City & Suburban Building Company, assisted by the salesmen representing the agencies associated with the Fort Wayne Real Estate
Board, will open the sale of the lots in County Club Gardens. The tract adjoins the grounds of the Fort Wayne Country Club on the west. It is bordered on the north by the Huntington road and on the south by Taylor street and the Fort Wayne & North-

graph shows one of the six entrances to the tract, which has graveled streets and all the natural equipment for ideal suburban home sites. The lots average 100 by 200 feet in size and the ground is very fertile and well drained. Besides the two smooth stone automobile routes into the city, an hourly interurban railway service provides excellent connection with the downtown district. The place is especially well suited to the needs of many who are employed in town, but who desire a suburban home site. The sale begins in earnest on Wednesday morning of this week.

attack in force. He may even regain secondary objectives temporarily, but the British war machine is moving forward and if time permits and the combat season remains open, with the weather continuing favorable for reconnaissance and careful aircraft observation, the allied victories of the past two weeks will in all probability be repeated and extended.

"The enemy pressure along the eastern front has been relieved by the strong allied offensive in Flanders.
No engagements of more than local importance are reported in the east.

"The German advance in the northeast has apparently weakened and the Russians have been able to reorganize their positions in the Riga sector."

The review sketches briefly the week's news from other fronts, with the comment that reports from the Russian front is more encouraging.

BIG INDIANA DRIVE FOR CONSERVATION

Week of October 21 to Be Given to Intensive State-Wide Campaign for Food Saving.

WOMEN OF INDIANA TO BE ENLISTED

Conservation Week in Indiana.

1. October 21, "Conservation Sunday," in all the Churches of Indiana. This marks opening of Hoover Food Enrollment campaign. Most of the ministers of the state have agreed to preach Conservation.
2. Meatless Tuesday, October 23, and meatless Friday, October 26. It is the hope of the Food Administration that this will mark the beginning of meatless days as a permanent institution in Indiana homes.
3. Wheatless dinners all week. Corn bread will be on fashionable diets from October 21 to 28. It is the further hope of the Food Administration that this will mark the rebirth of cornmeal as a regular staple article of food.
4. Conservation day rally, Wednesday, October 24th. There will be a big meeting in Tomlinson Hall, Indianapolis, on the evening of this day under the auspices of the Marion County Council of Defense and similar Conservation Councils in every town in Indiana under the auspices of County Councils of Defense and Commercial Clubs.
5. Merchants' Conservation day, Thursday, October 25th. Stores will arrange special Conservation sales, with appropriate window displays, decorations, bargains, etc.
6. Conservation day in all schools, Friday, October 26th. This day has been proclaimed for the purpose and occasion by Horace Ellis, State Superintendent of Public Instruction.
7. Whirlwind finish of campaign for signatures of 1,000,000 Indiana women in the Hoover Food Enrollment, who will be given cards by the United States Food Administration indicating their patriotism, for display in front windows, Saturday, October 27th.
8. Day of prayer and praise for those who have gone out to fight Democracy's battles, who are to be sustained and maintained by a solid army of stay-at-home volunteers, Sunday, October 28th.

Indianapolis, Oct. 8.—The program for Conservation week in Indiana, Oct. 21 to 28, provides for eight days of very active service and definite work for food conservation. It begins on Sunday with church services and the program ends with a day of prayer and praise for the workers on the following Sunday. The detail plans for each day, as given out by the publicity department of the State Council of Defense, follow:

An Intensive Drive.
Conservation week will be the most extensive and intensive effort yet made, in a patriotic way, in Indiana, Dr. Bernard says. A special effort will be made to educate every Indiana housewife to the full significance of the Hoover organization and the great effort will be made to have her enroll and become a part of the great food army, upon which the American army, the soldiers of our allies, the civil population of the nations fighting Germany, and most important of all, our own national efficiency depends, during the progress of the great war.

Message From Hoover.
Herbert Hoover, federal food administrator, wired Dr. Bernard today as follows:

Greatly pleased with Indiana's promise of million signatures to pledge cards. Keep us fully informed of plans so we may pass them on to ginger up other states. This is the campaign which is going to win the war. We have an army of soldiers, an army of mercy, but it is the conservation army—the army of homes of United States for conservation—that is going to win the war.

Special Campaign Committee.
A special campaign committee, representing each of the thirteen congressional districts in Indiana, has been appointed by Dr. Bernard to conduct the signature campaign. They are as follows:

- 1.—Mrs. F. F. Eribacher, Evansville.
- 2.—Mrs. Charles Bierhaus, Vincennes.
- 3.—Mrs. Craigie Gunn Mitchell, Bedford.
- 4.—Mrs. Elizabeth Ervin, Franklin.
- 5.—Mrs. Hortense Tapp Moore, Rockville.
- 6.—Mrs. Wm. E. Ochiltree, Connersville.
- 7.—Mrs. Julia C. Henderson, Indianapolis.
- 8.—Mrs. William Crostley, Pendleton.
- 9.—Mrs. Sam Matthews, Tipton.
- 10.—Mrs. Florence R. Greve, West Lafayette.
- 11.—Mrs. Eva E. Rohbeck, Wabash.
- 12.—Mrs. Olat N. Guldin, Fort Wayne.
- 13.—Mrs. Isabella P. Bowman, Elkhart.

Young Women to Aid.
In many communities of the state a representative committee of young women have volunteered to conduct "pledge card stations" in the principal stores. Here also literature will be distributed and the questions of the curious answered.

Women members of the county councils will co-operate during the week and the organizations which contributed so much toward the enrollment secured in the first campaign will continue to lend every assistance possible.

The Indiana State Council of Defense is lending every ounce of its strength in support of the movement, which is under the joint direction of the Council and Food Commissioner Bernard.

To Distribute Pledge Cards.
The following agencies will be used for the distribution of the pledge cards and the emblems that will be given to each woman signing:

- State field workers under women members of county councils.
- Schools.
- Churches.
- Women's clubs.
- Postmasters.
- Libraries.
- Storekeepers.
- Volunteers.

Every woman who joins the food organization will receive a "Conservation outfit," as follows:

- (a) A three-colored membership card to hang in front window.
- (b) A book entitled "Ten Lessons in Conservation," containing valuable suggestions and practical recipes for food conservation—a textbook on food saving.
- (c) A kitchen "War Creed"—a terse outline of Hoover recommendations for war time.

Will Make Conservation Plan.
"Conservation week and this great campaign for a million women members of the food organization before the people of this state in a new light," said Dr. Bernard today. "The people of this state must be made to realize that it is just as much a grim war-time necessity to study and practice the conservation of certain foodstuffs as it is to send soldiers to France, or raise money for the Red Cross or the Liberty loan."

SOLDIERS WILL MEET IN ANNUAL REUNION

The twenty-ninth annual reunion of the Twenty-third Indiana battery will be held in the assembly room of the court house Wednesday, to which all soldiers of the civil war are invited to attend. The Twenty-third battery participated in many of the great battles of the civil war.

A program is now in course of preparation, including addresses, songs and recitations. C. M. Gillett is president and Levi Craig secretary.

TO IMPROVE YOUNG PUPILS.
New York, Oct. 8.—In an effort to improve the mental and physical condition of 50,000 New York school children, lunch rooms will be installed in thirty-six schools in Manhattan and the Bronx this week, it was announced today by the association for improving the condition of the poor. An investigation by the society has shown that many of the children are under-nourished.

COAL OUTLOOK FOR EMPLOYEES IS BLACK

Toledo Firm Writes That the Usual Product is Missing.

It is indeed a black outlook for city officials and employees who had anticipated the buying of their winter coal at a cheap rate. The fuel which has formerly been shipped here for use of city officials cannot be had, writes the Toledo firm which has furnished the mineral in former years.

The Black Hawk coal, which has been the favorite brand with officials and which has been gathered in former years for a reasonable figure, is off of the market, writes the Warner Coal company, of Toledo, which had supplied a part of the city demand.

Uncle Sam is commandeering all the smelt and well washed coal for driving his food-laden hulks across the seas, the letter comments. Only slack and mine waste materials can be furnished at once, writes the Toledo corporation.

The letter received Monday morning practically ends the effort of police and firemen to obtain cheaper coal by buying three carloads from the Toledo firm, officials state. The mayor and other city officials were counting on obtaining at least a car of the coal from Toledo.

AWAITING STEEL.

Grace Company Will Start Wall Work in Few Days.

The Grace Construction company is awaiting a shipment of re-enforcing steel for strengthening the wall, to be built from the State street bridge to the Centennial brewery, along Spy Run avenue. It is expected that the steel rods will arrive this week. Work will begin as soon as the strengthening material for the concrete wall is here.

Contract has been awarded the Grace company for paving Indiana avenue, from Rudisill boulevard to Lexington avenue. Labor will start next week.

Workers of the Grace Construction company have begun the laying of concrete on Kensington boulevard. The strip to be paved is a half mile long with the drive way running on both sides of small park plats. The road is 86 feet wide.

Paving of Glasgow avenue by the Grace Construction company, is expected to be completed by Wednesday evening.

MORE VACCINATIONS.

Many Children Are Returning to School, Monday.

Children upon whom the vaccination proved successful, were given permits to return to school Monday. The closed grades at the Hoagland, St. Augustine and St. Mary's schools will be running with almost normal attendance.

Health officers announce definitely that the spread of the smallpox has been stopped and that the disease will die out when present patients have recovered.

Two new cases were reported on Sunday. They were Louise Myers, 48, 445 East Lewis street, and Irene Feilman, 215 East Leith street.

SUFFER RELAPSE.

City Will Fall 5,000 Short of Its Full Quota.

Vote registrations were few and far between at the city hall office Monday morning. It seemed that the big drive on Saturday had left the political workers in a state of relapse.

Election officials announce that the final registration will be about 5,000 voters short of the full quota of the city. There are more than 25,000 persons registered at this time and nearly 31,000 citizens are eligible for a ballot.

The registration period closes at 6 o'clock Monday evening.

Birth Record.
Born to Mr. and Mrs. William Wehrt, 1619 Wells street—a boy.

To Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bartels, 812 Colerick street—a boy.

To Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Niemeyer, 331 East Pontiac street—a boy.

To Mr. and Mrs. Robert Coliarce, 2217 South Barr street—a boy.

A building permit was issued to Perry Heller, to build private garage, 1024 High street, to cost $100.

MARGARET J. HOUSER IS CALLED BY DEATH

Widow of Corporal J. H. Houser, 73 Years Old, Answers Last Call.

Margaret J. Houser, aged 73 years, died at her home, 903 Delaware avenue, from complications of disease, Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. The deceased was well known in this community, coming from a large and well known family.

Mrs. Houser had always taken an active interest in church affairs and was a member of the Church of God, of Garrett. The body was removed to the home of a daughter, Mrs. Nellie Merica, 815 Delaware avenue, where the funeral services will be held Wednesday morning at 11:30 o'clock, followed by services at 1:30 in Union Chapel, just north of Garrett.

Surviving besides the daughter are two brothers, C. M. Merica, of Hanover, Conn., and the Rev. John Merica, of Whiting; one sister, Mrs. Rebecca Heitz, of Auburn, and six grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

ABERY.

Mrs. E. K. Abery, aged 44 years, died Sunday morning at 10 o'clock at her home, 731 West Superior street, of heart failure. The deceased was born at Salem, Ill., but had resided in Fort Wayne for many years. Surviving besides the husband are the mother, residing in Salem; two sisters, one residing with the mother, and the other living in Chicago, and one brother, M. Whitson, of the United States army.

Mrs. Abery was a member of the ladies' auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen No. 85, 241 Anthony lodge of Macabees and of the United Brethren church.

Funeral services Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock from the United Brethren church, interment at Salem.

GEARY.

James E. Geary, aged 23 years, died Sunday at his home, 1010 Oakland street, from complications of disease. The deceased had been a brakeman for the Nickel Plate road for some time, but had been unable to perform his duties on account of ill health for the last year. Surviving him are the widow, one son, the father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. William Geary; a sister, Mrs. Rose Richter, and the following five brothers: Charles, Carroll, Oliver, William and Noble Geary. The deceased was an ardent church member and belonged to the Precious Blood Catholic church. He was also a member of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen No. 131.

LEWIS.

Edward R. Lewis, aged 72 years, the oldest employee of the Fort Wayne Rolling mill, died yesterday morning at his home, 1320 Link street. Death was unexpected and was due to apoplexy. The deceased was born in Wales and came to Fort Wayne about fifteen years ago.

He is survived by the widow, one son, Samuel, and one daughter, Mrs. Peter Sterling, of Chicago. The deceased was a member of the K. of P. lodge No. 329, of Muskegon, and of Iron Workers' lodge No. 14, of this city.

SHIPMAN.

Viola Shipman, the three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Shipman, 2009 North Clinton street, died early Sunday morning from exanthema. Surviving besides the parents are three brothers and three sisters. Funeral services will be held at the residence Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock and interment will take place at Lindenwood.

FUNERAL ANNOUNCEMENTS.
Brown—Funeral services for Mrs. Christian Brown will be held at the home, 1213 Ewing street, at 8:30 and at the St. Paul's Catholic church at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning. Interment will take place at Lindenwood cemetery.

FUNERAL ANNOUNCEMENTS.
Emma Dorwin at the home, 3007 South Wayne avenue, at 10 o'clock and at the M. E. church, of Decatur, at 10:30 o'clock (Standard time) Thursday morning. Interment in church cemetery. Auto funeral.

AT STATE FARM.

Big Annual Event Will Be Held on Wednesday, October 31.

The twenty-seventh annual plowing contest conducted under the auspices of the Allen county Plowing association will be held at the state farm on the St. Joe road on Wednesday, October 31. At a meeting of the association on Saturday afternoon Christian G. Vonderau, county recorder, was re-elected president and County Agent A. J. Hutchins, secretary-treasurer. The committee on arrangements consists of J. H. Thrash, Charles Meyers, George W. Gillie and Ernest Gallmoler. The field committee is composed of Joseph Tonkel, Charles Meyers, John A. Gillie and George Thumm. George Thumm will have charge of classes A and B and Martin Goeglein will have charge of class C, while Chief Bullerman will direct the class D contest. George Kell will be in charge of the potato exhibit and George Tonkel the corn display.

AERONAUTIC SCHOOL AT YALE.
New Haven, Conn., Oct. 8.—A school of military aeronautics at Yale university has been planned and sanctioned by the war department, according to announcement today. Students enrolled will take their aviation training with regular studies and the first class will be started next June and the members sent to flying schools either in this country or France.

FIVE INJURED IN ACCIDENT

Automobile Fails to Make a Turn on Lincoln Highway and Turns Over.

RAY KING, PAYNE, SERIOUSLY HURT

Others Suffer Scalp Wounds and Bruises—Had Spent Day Here.

Five persons were seriously injured at 2 o'clock Monday morning when the Ford automobile in which they were riding failed to make the curve at State street, on the Lincoln highway, New Haven, throwing them out and badly damaging the machine. The injured are:

Ray King, Payne, Ohio, dislocated left shoulder, gash in right thigh, scalp wound and other injuries.

Roland Miller, Fort Wayne, scalp wound.

Harry Armstrong, Fort Wayne, scalp wound.

Earl Armstrong, Fort Wayne, scalp wound and injury to left elbow.

Laola Carter, Edgerton, Ind., scalp wound; badly bruised.

Ruth Lytal, Edgerton, Ind., was the only passenger in the car who escaped without injury.

The party had spent Sunday afternoon and evening in this city and were on their way to Payne, Ohio, when the accident occurred. King, owner of the car, was driving. Apparently the car was going at a terrific speed and instead of making the curve at State street plunged onto the tracks of the Ohio Electric company, causing the car to turn over.

Medical attention was given the injured by Dr. G. G. Brudi, of New Haven.

Miller works in Payne, Ohio, while the two Armstrongs, Carter and Lytal were making the trip for pleasure and expected to return to their home Monday morning.

MILITARY NEWS

OPENING FOR MEN IN AVIATION CORPS

Only Limited Number to Be Received for Each State.

A number of applicants have been received by the examining board for entrance in the signal and aviation corps of the army, with special training in balloon observation. The examining board, with Captain E. H. Kilbourne as chairman, is meeting at the Commercial club daily from 12 to 1:30 and from 7:30 to 9:30 each evening and those wishing to apply should do so at these hours. Commissions will be granted in balloon observation, and as there are to be only a limited number taken from each state those who wish to enter the officer's training camp should apply early. These three sections will be open to the applicants: That of the signal corps, aviation section of the signal corps, non-flying, aviation section of the signal corps, flying.

The examining board will be the same as that which held the examinations for the first and second training camps. They are: Captain E. H. Kilbourne, Harry Miller, E. A. Wagner, H. G. Hogan, Martin Lucke, S. A. Callahan, J. C. Hutzel, Byron H. Somers, Ed Lewis, A. K. Remmel, Frank Hamilton and Captain H. O. Brueggeman.

This is a new and splendid opportunity for the young man who was too late to get into either of the other officers' training camps. The applicant will receive $100 a month while in training and if successful in passing the examination will not receive less than $2,000 a year. It is through this branch of the service that all of the big battles will be directed and thus it will give an excellent chance for rapid promotion.

Now 151st Infantry.
By an order from the war department the regiment formerly designated as the First Indiana is now to be called the 151st United States Infantry. The state designation has been dropped entirely in referring to the Indiana regiment. Company E of Fort Wayne, and none of the other regiments, companies were affected by this order. Friends of those in the first company should remember this change when writing to Camp Selby.

Dr. Calvin Writes.
Dr. W. D. Calvin, of Fort Wayne, first lieutenant in the medical reserve stationed at Camp Houston, Texas, writes back, telling of this government post. He states that there are 40,000 men stationed there and that the hospital units include over a half mile of screened porches. Dr. Calvin has now been transferred to a different department and just handles special cases. He adds that there are not enough physicians there yet although the number has been steadily increased.

Now a Corporal.
Victor Jacob, 342 East Main street, is home on a five-day furlough and says there is nothing better than the army. Jacob was just recently appointed to a corporal.

Sergeant Finan Stays.
Sergeant Finan, who has been the first assistant to Sergeant Turner at the recruiting station for some time, did not go to Indianapolis as he had intended. He received notice to report Saturday at the main station but just before his departure he received notice to stay here. Corporal Jud, recently transferred to this office from Lafayette, was called to Indianapolis instead of Sergeant Finan.

ACTION TAKEN IN NUMBER OF CASES

Several Are Dismissed in Circuit Court and Others Are Set for Trial.

Action was taken in a number of cases pending in circuit court Monday, as follows:

Titte quieted as prayed for in the case of Era Enslin against the Lake Erie and Fort Wayne Railway company.

The case brought by Joseph Baum against Otto D. Manship for the foreclosure of a chattel mortgage, was set for trial for October 9.

A chattel mortgage was foreclosed and judgment for $159.50 granted in the case brought by J. Morris against William H. Brinkman.

Damages of $165 and possession of real estate were allowed in the case of William Wassenstein against Francis A. Gladioux and Louise S. Gladioux.

C. M. Prebel filed his bond of $20,000 as receiver for the Brick and Tile company in the case of Edwin B. Wilcox against Amos K. Myers and others.

The suit brought by the Porter Construction company against John Liekhauf for foreclosure of mechanic's lien and $120 was dismissed.

Suit brought by William F. Roebel against the Pennsylvania Railroad company was dismissed.

Finding for plaintiff in the sum of $128.46 was made in the case of Jacob Goldwasser against Abraham Korman.

The trial of the case of Louis F. Parnin et al against Joseph A. Parnin et al was postponed by agreement.

The case brought by Edward W. Warner against Henry B. Wiesner for $300, alleged to be due for rent, has been dismissed.

A finding for the plaintiff in the sum of $4,329.11 and foreclosure of a mortgage was made in the case brought by Louis H. Moore against John A. and Minnie Biddle.

Taking Appraisement.

An appraisement was taken of all the county property in the court house Monday for the purpose of determining the insurance rate for the next four years.

Demand $1,000.

Suit for the foreclosure of a mechanic's lien to satisfy an alleged indebtedness of $1,000 was filed in the circuit court Monday by Henry Frank against Nathan Kaplan, Nello Kaplan and the Tri-State Loan and Trust company.

Case Dismissed.

The suit brought by the Chicago Tube and Iron company against the Fort Wayne Belting and Supply company was dismissed in the superior court Monday.

Marriage Licenses.

Henry F. Bellinger, machinist, and Mary E. Musser.

Chester Norton, packer, and Ruth V. Cook.

Ferdinand F. Franke, mail driver, and Anna Mendenhall.

James W. Reed, teamster, and Alice A. Peterson.

George E. Heltzel, Albion, farmer, and Ula M. Faulkner.

Charles A. Hill, Muncie, laborer, and Ada Belle Lutz.

Elmer L. Bush, cigarmaker, Pennsylvania, and O'Die Jackson.

John Bailey, laborer, and Henrietta Ward.

REFUSES TO COOK.

John D. Menzie Files Suit for Divorce from Sadie A. Menzie.

Charging his wife with refusing to do her household work and with having an ungovernable temper, John D. Menzie, through his attorneys, Avery E. Groves and Harry Hageman, filed suit in superior court Monday, asking for a divorce from Sadie A. Menzie. Menzie also charges his wife with shamefully abusing their children. He asks for their custody. Mr. and Mrs. Menzie were married September 14, 1914, and separated October 5, 1917.

TRIAL OF KEET BABY KIDNAPERS IS BEGUN

Marshfield, Mo., Oct. 8.—The trial of Claude J. Piersol, charged with kidnapping Lloyd Keet, the infant son of the Springfield, Mo., banker, opened in the circuit court here today. Piersol, who is only 20 years old, is alleged to have headed a band, two of whom are charged with him in the abduction of the Keet baby and four others, who are accused with the trio of a plot to abduct a jeweler in Springfield.

Although the death of the child, whose body was found in an abandoned cistern, does not figure in the charges against Piersol, conviction for kidnapping or attempting to kidnap carries a life sentence in Missouri. Nearly two hundred witnesses have been called and a special venire of 75 men summoned for jury purposes.

HEAVY SNOW NORTHWEST.
Deadwood, S. D., Oct. 8.—A heavy snow and rain yesterday broke an extended drought in the Black Hills region. Two inches of snow fell here. A forest fire which had been burning north of here a number of days, was extinguished.

REV. PORTER COMING HERE

South Evanston Man to Succeed Rev. Travis at Wayne Street Church.

BISHOP HIGHLY RECOMMENDS HIM

New Minister Will Preach His First Sermon Here Next Sunday.

Rev. Porter, pastor of the First Methodist church of South Evanston, Ill., a suburb of Chicago, has been selected to succeed Rev. C. Claid Travis, who leaves this week to accept the pastorate of the First Methodist church of Englewood, also a suburb of Chicago. The transfer from one conference to another was approved by Bishop Nicholson, at Belvidere, Ill., Monday morning.

Rev. Porter comes highly recommended by Bishop Nicholson. He is about fifty years old, married, and has held several splendid charges during the years he has been in the ministry. He will preach his first sermon here next Sunday.

Rev. Travis' acceptance of the call to Englewood has been generally known for over a week in the religious circles of the city.

Rev. Travis has been pastor of the Wayne Street church for the past nine years, the record of his pastoral work here being as follows: Number of pastoral calls, 6,800; number of religious meetings attended in which some active part was taken, 2,695; number of calls received at the parsonage home, 7,420; number of sermons and addresses delivered, 1,938; number received into the church, 779; number of persons baptized, 352; number of funerals conducted, 205; number of weddings solemnized, 235.

Born in South America.
Rev. Travis was born at Para, Brazil, South America, while his father, the late Major Charles M. Travis, was United States consul at that port. When a boy his father moved from South America to Crawfordsville, Ind., where Rev. Travis grew to manhood, attending public school there and Wabash college.

He took three prizes in oratory. He graduated in the class of 1895.

Rev. Travis was a member of the Phi Delta Theta fraternity. He took theological work at the Garrett Biblical Institute, Evanston, Ill., and was given an M. A. degree and a D. D. degree from Wabash college. He entered the Northwest Indiana conference in September of 1895, and has served the following charges: Assistant pastor at Frankfort, Ind., one year; pastor of the Summit Grove circuit, which included five preaching places; pastor of Grace church, South Bend, four years; pastor of the First church of Mishawaka, three years, and pastor of the Wayne street Methodist Episcopal church for nine years.

Rev. Travis preached his last sermon as pastor of the Wayne street church Sunday morning. Both Rev. and Mrs. Travis are highly esteemed in Fort Wayne. Rev. Travis is at the present time president of the Fort Wayne Ministerial association, while Mrs. Travis has been exceedingly active in Y. W. C. A. work, missionary circles, and as a bible teacher.

GUARDS OUT TO SAVE NEGRO.
Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 8.—The Raleigh home guard, a newly organized military company made up principally of professional and business men, was called out to protect Earl Neville, a negro, who went on trial today on a charge of criminal assault. Two unsuccessful attempts were made by mobs two weeks ago to take the negro from the county jail for the avowed purpose of lynching him.

Well Known Women Dies of Paralysis

Mrs. Christina Brown, 71 years old, widow of the late John A. Brown, who died Saturday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Frank Phillips, 1213 Ewing street, of paralysis, had been a resident of Fort Wayne a quarter of a century, coming here from Huntington. She was a prominent member of the St. Paul's Catholic church and also of the Altar and Rosary societies and Sacred Heart league. Funeral services Tuesday morning at 8:30 o'clock at the home and at 9 o'clock at the St. Paul's Catholic church, followed by interment in the Catholic cemetery.

YOU'RE BILIOUS!

CLEAN LIVER AND BOWELS TONIGHT

Don't Stay Headachy, Sick, or Have Bad Breath and Sour Stomach.

Wake Up Feeling Fine! Best Laxative for Men, Women and Children.

Enjoy life! Remove the liver and bowel poison which is keeping your head dizzy, your tongue coated, breath offensive, and stomach sour. Don't stay bilious, sick, headachy, constipated and full of cold. Why don't you get a box of Cascarets from the drug store and eat one or two tonight and enjoy the nicest, gentlest liver and bowel cleansing you ever experienced? You will wake up feeling fit and fine. Cascarets never gripe or sicken like salts, pills and calomel. They act so gently that you hardly realize you have taken a cathartic. Mothers should give Cascarets to their children. They are safe, reliable, bilious or feverish children a whole Cascaret any time—they act thoroughly and are harmless.—Advertisement.

definite instruction upon this point at your earliest convenience. The comfort kit department, under the management of the W. C. T. U., is also self-supporting. They report 22 bags sold and a large number given away. We billed to them supplies amounting to $57.23 and they have paid back $50.24.

We took great pleasure making, at the request of the signal corps, 112 bags for their members, they supplying the material. We had donated $14.15 to supply the comfort kits to the signal corps boys who had no friends or means to purchase them, and from this fund we gave seven complete bags.

We also made 80 bedticks for the signal corps, they furnishing the material.

All the departments show marked increase in the past week owing in a great measure to cooler weather and the fine work done by the extension department, Mrs. Robert Harding chairman.

Many local and rural circles have been addressed and an attendance campaign is now under way in which the newspapers and advertising agencies are most helpful.

Two changes in the personnel of the working force of the shop have taken place. Mrs. R. L. Fogles has accepted the position left vacant by Miss Alice Knight's department and Mrs. P. I. Brown, who is leaving Fort Wayne, has to our deep regret resigned the chairmanship of the house committee. This vacancy has not yet been filled.

I would suggest that some manner of heating the chapter headquarters building be arranged for soon.

Greatest Silk Offering

Mind You!--Comparison of Quality as well as Price.

Nearly $20,000 Worth of Silks

Isn't this splendid news, coming just when silk prices are going up-up-up--and, then, too, when fashion is demanding that frocks be made of silks--just the very silks that we are offering in this SILK EVENT!

—This we believe is the most important distribution of Silks we have ever advertised—that means it's an event you can ill afford to miss, and will last four days.

Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday

—Note the different Silks quoted below—they form only a part of the great Silk opportunities here in store for you.

2,000 Yards of Fancy Silks, Worth $2 a Yard, at $1.38 a Yard —That include values that are almost as astonishing as would be moonlight at noon time. 36-inch fancy taffetas and satin effects—(plaids, stripes, checks)—colors and combinations of colors that are legion—you must see them and compare them to get the full meaning of their worth and beauty.

$1.50 Costume Satins, yard 1.32

—and Fashion says—Satins are supreme—soft clinging satins that lend themselves so gracefully to the modes of the hour. In this offering one will find every shade that is in vogue and every one of them a yard wide.

$1.50 Black Silks, yd. 1.18

—Black taffetas and black satins—two of the most favored of silks and always in season—both of excellent quality and will give the utmost in wear wherever used; full yard wide.

$2.50 Satin Charmelle, yard 1.84

—A new weave—rich in beauty—that will bring out every line of the new modes—exquisite in their delicate colorings—they are irresistible. To see them is to want them and at this price it means a saving.

All-Silk Chiffon Velvet, $4.98 yd.

42 inches wide—in a full range of seasonable colors—a velvet that is on its way to a much higher price—the very same width and quality that is sold elsewhere in Fort Wayne at $5.95.

27-Inch Satins, yard 89c

—In a color range that takes in every shade known to fashion this season—while it may be of the narrower width it loses nothing of its superior quality—Our regular $1.00 value.

$1.50 Crepe de Chine, yard 1.09

—Nearly every woman in Fort Wayne knows the quality of Tepper's Crepe de Chine—full 40 inches wide and in the very shades that are in demand right now. This is our regular crepe de chine reduced for this event.

$1.00 Plaid Silks, yd 67c

—For skirts, waists and in combination with wool fabrics or with plain colored silks—included at this price is a handsome showing of clever stripe effects, all in a wide color range.

$1.00 Silk Poplins, 78c yd.

—In all the street as well as the evening shades—of excellent quality and comparison will prove to you that it is equal to poplin sold elsewhere at a great deal higher price—in spite of its lower price here.

$1 Chiffons and Marquisettes, yd 68c

—Very much in demand just now and will be for some time to come; a full color range and 40 inches wide; of excellent quality and now offered at welcome savings.

$1.25 Lining Satin, yd 88c

—Made to stand and will stand the wear demanded of it for coats—for furs—in a range of colors to match the new fabrics or if you wish to reline an older garment.

75c Colored Velveteens, yard 48c

—This much-wanted velveteen in every wanted color and will prove to be a "Better Value" after comparison—Fine for boys' suits, kid-alike coats—it will fill all requirements.

---and Hundreds of Other Silk Savings Just as Great.

Circus day may attract great throngs of people who make a big showing as they loiter on the streets, but there is comparatively little increased business in the stores. On great public occasions, the people come for an outing and to be entertained. But Fort Wayne's Suburban day is based upon a more stable and lasting plan—that of establishing a new relationship between the Fort Wayne merchant and the people of the surrounding territory who have not been accustomed to come to Fort Wayne to purchase the goods which cannot be bought at home. The idea is an excellent one for both parties to the transaction. It is interesting to observe how it works out. One merchant has his individual way of giving the service which will insure a continuance of the out-of-town customer's good will. Another adopts a different method. The result is that all through the Suburban day campaign the merchants and salespeople are displaying a new conception of real service. They are guided by the knowledge that their competitors are also alert to the giving of their best thought to those methods which will insure the continued good will of the patron. All this is elevating the methods of merchandising, and all the people are benefiting from it.

The increasing size of the out-of-town crowds each succeeding Wednesday is a sure indication that the Fort Wayne idea is solid, substantial and lasting, and that it is appreciated by the out-of-town patron.

The merchants are now making elaborate preparations for this week Wednesday. Full announcements will be found in The Sentinel.

Chicago, Oct. 8.—Pin another blue ribbon on the Sox. Living up to their reputation and making good the predictions of the fans, they hammered the Giants into unconsciousness yesterday in the second world series game at Comiskey park and won by the lopsided score of 7 to 2.

It was easy to take for the 32,000 who saw the contest, as each blow of McGraw's twirlers flattened many a Broadway pocketbook and transferred some of the Wall street cash to the stockyard district. The fans, early birds and late comers, were given the treat of their lives as they watched Ferdie Schupp, McGraw's greatest, knocked out of the box in less than two innings. They howled with glee as Fred Anderson struck the skids in the fourth, ushered to the coop by an avalanche of hits. They cheered Pol Perritt for his gameness in taking Fred's place in that hurricane of swats, and Pol responded by permitting Eddie Collins and Joe Jackson to drive in three runs, which, added to the two off Schupp and a like number off Anderson, made the total of seven.

Tesreau Horns In.

Perritt, out of the furnace of heat in the fourth, hung on until the end of the seventh, when a strategy called for a pinch hitter, which gave Jeff Tesreau a chance to burn in for the final inning.

There had been some doubt in the camp of the Giants whether the Sox had the punch or not. Saturday's battle was not quite conclusive to their way of thinking. They found out yesterday. Count them up and all information to those who stayed at home. It reads: Four off Schupp in one and one-third innings, five off Anderson in two, and four off Perritt in three and two-thirds, a total of fourteen, and high up among the records for a world's series game.

Hand It to Faber.

While the posies are passed it is well not to forget Faber and his leeward delivery, which chilled the men of Gotham to the marrow. The Giants had banked on having Urban's career in the box short. They had hoped that he would pitch. His delivery would suit them. Again read the records: Three hits in the second inning, good for two runs, one each in the five other rounds, every one with a complimentary tag attached. Only one of the National leaguers saw first base on a walk, Burns again being the recipient, as he was the day before. And then they said Faber had no control. Some felt that.

Jim Gets a Riding.

The crowd, an even 32,000, as the day before, in entitled to a few assists. The fans had seen Jim on the pan from the time McGraw cluttered up the scenery in the preliminary practice. They were not rough about it, but perhaps they figured that it might be the last chance to get Heinie's goat. There is no certainty that the holders of expensive pastebards will have a chance to see Gotham's favorites again on the south side for this season. There are predictions of four straight which have a tinge of optimism. As the game was played yesterday, though, the Giants were outclassed. They never stood a ghost of a show, and it is also on record that four of McGraw's twirlers have been badly misused.

It was not such an artistic contest as the opener, but it more than passed muster among those who love the rough stuff. It was there in plenty. Joe Jackson did not slide on his ear in the Sabbath contest, but he made up for what he failed to Saturday. He slapped the New York pitchers for three hits and a walk, which gave him a per cent average. He tucked on a stolen base just for the sake of decorations.

Eddie Collins made it fifty-fifty at the plate, getting two hits in four times up. As trimmings, he tacked on two stolen bases just to show that his financial burdens had not impeded his speed.

Buck Weaver, who went hitless the day before, broke in with three, and reached first every time up, getting a life on Fletcher's fumble the third time he faced north. Even Faber horned in with a hit, his fifth of the year.

FIRST HIT IN THE WORLD SERIES!

Burns of the Giants knocked out the first hit of the world series, just making first before Gandil (at left) got the ball.

FIRST WHITE SOX HIT IN THE WORLD SERIES

J. Collins made the first hit for the White Sox. He's shown here coming into first base, with Holke, New York first-sacker, just beyond him.

FIRST GAME GOES TO THE WHITE SOX

Eddie Cicotte Master of the Giants at Every Stage of the Contest.

Chicago, Oct. 8.—Eddie Cicotte, ably assisted by the White Sox machine, defeated the New York Nationals Saturday in the first game of the 1917 world's series played at Comiskey park, by a score of 2 to 0. At every stage of the game Cicotte was master of the Giants.

An even 32,000 spectators paid admission to the field of the club with a result that $73,152 was divided among the players, clubs and the national commission. Of this amount the players received $39,520.83 each of the clubs $13,167.36, and the national commission $7,315.20.

While the box score showed little advantage one way or the other between the two teams the fact remains that the White Sox for the day at least showed a faster and better machine than the Giants. Both the infield and the outfield worked with perfect judgment and harmony and the players collectively and individually co-operated to a higher degree than was the case with the National league combination. The men of Rowland, with Cicotte on the mound, appeared to have a psychological edge on the Giants and even in the most uncertain moments of the contest played with a dash and vim which was an outstanding feature of their work.

Sox First to Score.

They were first to score, gathering in their initial run in the third when, after Schalk had been retired at first by Zimmerman, Cicotte singled through second.

John Collins followed with another to right and Cicotte was thrown out at third by Robertson, while Collins took second on the throw across the diamond. From the midway sack he was able to score easily when McMullin doubled over second. The second and deciding run of the contest was a home run drive of remarkable power and length by Felsch in the fourth, when the Sox centerfielder, caught one of Salles's swooping curves on the end of his bat and sent the ball soaring more than 400 feet into the left center bleachers. It is doubtful if a further home run blow has ever been delivered in modern world's series.

The Giants' lone tally came in the following inning when Catcher McCarty hummed out a three-base hit between Felsch and J. Collins, which might have gone for a home run also had the Giants' backstop been able to run faster. Recently recovered from a broken leg, however, the best McCarty could do was to reach third, from which point he scored easily on Salles's following single.

Jackson in Stellar Catch.

The outstanding example of these wonderful defensive plays was a shoestring catch by Jackson in the seventh inning when he swept in on the run and caught McCarty's drive just off the grass and finished with a somersault, coming up with the ball in his hand so quickly that Holke was easily held at first, which he had reached as the result of a single to right.

Analysis of the balls pitched indicated that the Giants keep Cicotte working harder than the latter's teammates did. Salles, the tendency of the White Sox to hit anything that looked good instead of waiting out the opposing pitcher was illustrated by the fact that Salles threw only 86 balls in eight innings. Cicotte's total for nine innings was 101. The box score:

9 innings. Struck out—By Cloutte, 3; lee, 2. Umpires—O'Loughlin behind plate. Klem at first base, Rigler at base, Evans at third base. Time

FRIARS DEFEATED IN OPENING GAME

Officers Score by Aerial Route Coupled With Line Smashes.

Before a crowd of 2,000 people the Friars went down to defeat in the opening game of the season. The score was 9 to 0. The closeness of the score shows the near quality of the two elevens. This was the opening game of the season for the Friars while the officers had the advantage of several weeks' practice and a previous game. Nothing should be said to detract from the glory of the officers' victory for their playing was a revelation to the crowd and their own managers as well.

The game was well played throughout and fumbles and misplays were rare. Captain Huntington, of the Friars, won the toss and chose to defend the south goal. Chambers got the ball on the kick-off and made a pretty return of twenty yards. The next three plays failed to gain the necessary ten yards and Dorais punted to the center of the field. The officers tried to gain through the Friar line but found it holding like a wall and so punted to Dorais. The first period went in this manner with the ball sawing in mid-field.

The second period started in the same way as the first had been but towards the close of the period Costello, who had been playing a sensational game as quarter for the visitors, broke through the Friar line for a forty yard gain, placing the ball on the Friars' thirty yard line. This was the break of the game, unworking the Friars and adding pep to the play of the soldiers. On the next three plays Langhoff carried the ball over for the first score of the game. Costello missed the goal.

The third quarter was a battle royal, both teams opening up and trying a number of passes. Here the practice of the army men showed to advantage and many of their passes told for the pretty gains. The beginning of the fourth quarter found the Friars playing their best game. Three times in succession they hit the visiting line for first down, by-the-way, several of these gains were through Chief Gardner, Camp Custer's captain, and one of the best ends who ever played in this city. The Friars worked several passes which were well executed, but one was intercepted and the visitors began another march down the field and at the close of the game, with the ball on the Friars' twenty yard line, Costello made a perfect drop kick, counting the other three points for his team.

Summary—Referee, H. G. Thomas, Chicago. Umpire—Lieut. Boegel, Camp Custer. Head Linesman—Jake Boegel, Fort Wayne. Time of periods—Fifteen minutes each. Touchdown—Langhoff. Goal from field—Costello. Goal from touchdown—Costello, missed. Substitutions—Young for Parry; Bashaw for Lockwood; Kraeger for Shaughnessy; Lockwood for Kraeger; Ambrose for Dorais; Speck for Pliska; Kintz for Ward; Kramer for Thompson.

Van Wert Defeated.

Van Wert, O., Oct. 8.—Disappointment reigned supreme among Van Wert football fans when the score of the Fostoria-Van Wert high school football game was received in the city Saturday night. While it was not expected that the Van Wert team would win, neither was it expected that such a large score would be run against it.

CENTRAL LEAGUE CLUB OWNERS HOLD MEETING

Louis Curdes Represented Fort Wayne at Chicago Sunday.

Louis Curdes was the Fort Wayne representative at a meeting of the Central league club owners held Sunday morning at Chicago. All of the club owners were present except from Muskegon. At this meeting Grand Rapids was awarded the 1917 pennant. Harry W. Stahlhofer, president of the league, presided at the meeting.

The Central league was one of the few minor leagues which finished the season last year, and while it was the opinion of the owners that the league would play next year, nothing definite was decided until after the meeting of the national association of minor leagues in Louisville next month.

FEATURE RACES ARE ON TODAY'S PROGRAM

Promise to Be the Best of Entire Two Weeks at Lexington.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 8.—Today's program promises to be one of the best of the entire two weeks of Grand Circuit trotting here with the Castleton cup for free for all trotters as the feature event. Mabel Trask and St. Frisco, speed marvels that hold first rank among trotters are expected to stage a great duel. St. Frisco appeared best early in the year, but at Columbus he faced a close third to Mabel Trask and Middledroct. St. Frisco, however, set a new world's record for trotting stallions this season at 2:01 1/4, but Mabel Trask has reduced her record to 2:02 1/4 and has set a new world's record for three consecutive heats, at 2:02 1/4, 2:02 1/4 and 2:03 1/4.

There is a slight leaning in the mutual pools toward the stallion. In addition to these two Zomeroet, Rose B and Early Dreams are entered and while they are not thought equal to champions, nevertheless they have considerable backing.

The second big event is the champions' futurity for four-year-old trotters in which are entered Expressive Lou, Bingen Silk, Harold's Creek, Suldine and five other fates.

WINS SECOND GAME.

Cincinnati, Oct. 8.—Cincinnati took the second game of the Ohio series from Cleveland Saturday by a score of 2 to 1. In a hard fought pitchers' battle between Schneider and Coveleskie which went thirteen innings. Score: R.H.E. Cincinnati .. 100000000000-2 5 0 Cincinnati .. 0000100000000-2 7 0 Batteries—Coveleskie and O'Neill; Schneider and Wingo.

PINE VILLAGE WINS.

Lafayette, Ind., Oct. 8.—The South Bend eleven was defeated here Sunday afternoon by the Pine Village football team by a score of 14 to 7. The Pine Villagers scored their points on consistent football, while South Bend made their touchdowns by accident. With four minutes to play, J. Fondrick intercepted a Pine Village forward pass and raced unmolested eighty yards for a touchdown. It was claimed that the South Bend player stepped out of bounds in catching the ball, but the officials ruled otherwise.

NATIONALS BLANKED.

St. Louis, Oct. 8.—The St. Louis Americans yesterday took the first game of a double-header from the St. Louis Nationals 2 to 0 and the second game was a tie in nine innings. Score: R.H.E. Americans .. 0 1 0 0 0 0 0-2 5 0 Nationals .. 0 0 0 0 0 0 0-0 7 2 Batteries—Lowdermilk and Hartley; Goodwin, Horstman and Snyder.

ANOTHER ARREST IN AUTO THEFT TANGLE

Floyd Bellmer Denies Any Part in Taking of Machine.

Police claim that the stealing of the Buick machine, belonging to Delbert Thompson, from in front of the Scottish Rite cathedral, on the night of August 30, was the result of a triangular plot. One man is in jail in Indianapolis, where he will be tried on an auto theft charge. Floyd Bellmer, claimed to be implicated in the taking of the car, was brought to Fort Wayne from Terre Haute, Sunday. A third party is roaming the plains of Kansas with the police on his trail.

Floyd Bellmer pleaded not guilty to a grand larceny charge in police court Monday morning. He is to have a hearing on Tuesday. He is held under $3,000 bond. He has engaged an attorney and states that he will fight the auto theft case from start to finish.

Thompson's machine was recovered in Indianapolis, where a man named Wagner, was in charge of the car, police say. Wagner is to be tried in the capital city this week. The car had been repainted. Police are said to have been told that Bellmer and another man aided in taking the auto from Fort Wayne to Terre Haute, from which place it was removed to Indianapolis.

Dog Goes to Farm.
The case against Theodore Bane, 821 High street, who was charged with failing to kill his dog after the animal had bitten the small son of Mrs. Henry Holman, was dismissed when Bane explained that he had arranged to have the animal taken to the country.

Other Police Court Cases.
Harry Bennett, colored, who was riding a Wabash freight train until removed by detectives, was given over to United States Commissioner T. J. Logan. Bennett had not registered for draft and is not sure about his age.

Wesley Bryan, of Hicksville, Ohio, charged with disorderly conduct and alleged to have made an indecent exposure of person, will be tried on Tuesday.

Cases of public intoxication were: George Monigal, fined $1 and costs; Hugo Zuber, $1; Joe Mesler, $1 and Charles Keating, $10. Joe Morgan, convicted seven times on intoxication charges this year, was released. Charles Jones was released.

Simple Home Remedy for Wrinkled Faces

Thousands are spending fortunes in frantic efforts to remove the signs of premature age from their faces. Such women willingly pay almost any amount of money for worthless wrinkle removers, of which there are many.

If they only knew it, the most effective remedy imaginable is a simple, harmless face wash which can be made up at home in less than a minute. They have only to get an ounce of powdered exfolite and half a pint of witch hazel at the drug store and mix the two. Apply this daily for a while as a refreshing lotion. The effect is almost magical. Even after the first treatment a marked improvement is noticed and the face has a snug, firm feeling that is most pleasing.—Advertisement

Waking Up!

This is the general waking up time of the world. All the nations are becoming acutely conscious of their weaknesses and deficiencies. There is nothing like a terrible war to jolt people out of their lethargy and make them see things as they are. And war has also another good effect. It makes people economize and forces them to seek out the best ways to save. The conscientious use of the Want Ads is helping many housewives in this community to effect savings in their household affairs that they could not accomplish in any other way. If you have not tried them yet—get busy now. Use the Want Ads for economy. With an Ad in The Sentinel you can talk to more than 75% of the people living in Fort Wayne.
